HENRY C. FRICK STANDING PAT ON SIX-FOOT CUT PROPOSITION

Will Not Change Views on Hump for Bigelow or Larkin.

MAKING NEW SURVEY

Director Sets Engineers to Work and Will See the Financier Again Today.

HOPING FOR A COMPROMISE

H. C. Frick stands pat on the hump cut.

After being interviewed by Director Bigelow and Controller Larkin yesterday, Mr. Frick declined to give up his opposition to the 18-foot cut, as proposed by the director, and declared in a statement to the public that he would agree only to a cut of six feet or thereabouts. Mr. Frick is said to have indicated that he might agree to deepen the cut a couple of more feet, possibly to eight feet, but Director Bigelow is said to have hopes of getting Mr. Frick to consent to a 10-foot cut.

While he will not give a waiver of damages for an 18-foot cut, he says he will not offer any opposition to the removal of the hump on the lines proposed by Mr. Bigelow if the people want it.

Would Make City Unsightly.

He declares an 18-foot cut would make the city "unsightly and ragged for a long time," and says a cut of six feet would greatly improve the city, leaving only such a hump as many cities would be glad to have.

After his interview with Mr. Frick yesterday morning, Director Bigelow set city engineers to work to make some new surveys at the Frick building to ascertain the effect of several cuts, ranging from six to ten feet at Fifth and Wylie avenues. The engineers took measurements at the three entrances to the Frick building, in Grant street, Fifth avenue and Diamond street. The first floor is considerably above the grade of Diamond street, is even with the grade of Grant street and several feet above the grade of Fifth avenue at the latter entrance. The elevation at the Fifth avenue entrance is approached by a flight of steps on the inside of the building.

Director Bigelow's Last Appeal.

Data from the surveys made yesterday by his engineers will be submitted today by Director Bigelow to Mr. Frick, and he will make a last appeal to Mr. Frick to modify his position.

The director said a six-foot cut at Wylie and Fifth avenues would make a cut of only three feet at the Frick building in Grant street, thus putting the Grant street entrance three feet above the street and leaving the entrances at Fifth avenue and Diamond street practically unchanged, because a cut of three feet in Grant street would not go down far enough to reach the line of the other two entrances.

The director disputed Mr. Frick's assertion that a six-foot cut would not necessitate the relaying of the sewers. He said the sewers would have to be lowered to drain the cellars whether the cut was 18 feet or six feet.

Says Hump Bill Is Dead.

Mr. Bigelow read Mr. Frick's statement last night, but refused to make any comments except to call attention to the phrase of Mr. Frick's that he was in favor of "a cut of six feet or thereabouts." The director laid stress on the word "thereabouts," suggesting that Mr. Frick was inclined to agree to a compromise cut over six feet.

"The hump ordinance will not be acted upon by councils at the regular meeting on Monday," said the director. "That ordinance is practically dead. It would be impossible now to have an election on July 25, the date set, because 30 days' notice must be given."

"Outside of the question whether the cut will be 18 feet, 10 feet or six feet, will the hump be removed?" Director Bigelow was asked.

"I won't answer that question," Mr. Bigelow replied.

Mr. Frick's Statement

If the citizens of Pittsburgh want the "hump" removed on the lines proposed by Mr. Bigelow, I certainly would not oppose it in any way. They, however, decided last year by a large majority of the votes cast not to remove the "hump." I then stated that their decision relieved me of great expense and annoyance.

The heavy cut proposed would leave the city ragged and unsightly for a long time. A cut of six feet, or thereabouts, (for which I am willing to pay my proportionate share of its cost, if others do), can be made quickly without seriously disturbing business on the streets that will be affected, and greatly improve the city, leaving only such a "hump" as many cities would be glad to have.

There are many irregularities in the surface of the present "hump" which any cut would remove. The one suggested by me would leave a large plateau, easily crossed from any direction.

COMMISSIONER M'AFEE NAMES BANK EXAMINERS

One of His Appointees Is Albert Wagner of Elizabeth, This County.

Albert Wagner of Elizabeth has been appointed a bank examiner by State Banking Commissioner Robert McAfee. Mr. Wagner was an expert accountant in the county controller's office for a number of years. He is active in the Sixth legislative district Republican politics.

Under an act passed by the last legislature Commissioner McAfee was authorized to appoint five additional examiners. In addition to Mr. Wagner he has named Enzer E. Lewis, of Blairsville, H. A. Groman, Bethlehem; John C. McClain, Lancaster, and Oscar G. Klopp, Lebanon. Mr. McClain is a brother of Representative Frank B. McClain of Lancaster, majority leader of the house of representatives at the recent session.

All the appointees either held clerical positions with corporations or banks and were selected from a large list of applicants because of their special fitness for examiners. They will each receive a salary of $1,500.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

GERMANY FEARS WAR MAY OCCUR

Concerned Over Powerful Intrigues Trying to Bring Conflict Over Morocco.

FEATURES OF FRENCH NOTE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, June 23.—The French note on the subject of the proposed Moroccan conference was handed to the foreign office this morning. The foreign office admits that it leaves the situation where it was before. The points of disagreement between Germany and France have not been removed. Germany's answer to Premier Rouvier has not yet been considered, while the delay might under ordinary circumstances be of advantage in affording time for the excitement to subside, German government circles note with some concern that powerful intrigues are going on, having for their object war between Germany and France. Germany's intention is to remain thorough pacific, but government circles here apprehend the possibility that these intrigues will result in inflaming the French people against Germany and creating a delicate and complicated situation.

France Makes Statement.

PARIS, June 23.—An official communication issued after the meeting of the council of ministers today says Premier Rouvier acquainted his colleagues with the status of the negotiations with Germany, saying they were following their normal course.

A semi-official statement appeared this evening summing up the main features of the French note. It said that instead of seeking to avoid a conference the note invites an exchange of views, this distinctly showing that France does not reject the principle of a conference. The note further explains the French policy in Morocco, thus meeting Germany's complaint that she had heretofore been deprived of information relative to the development of Morocco. The statement seeks to show that the government course has advanced a settlement of the difficulties. Notwithstanding this government view a large element of the public is convinced that Germany will not accept the note as tending towards an adjustment.

Germany Likely to Decline.

This unofficial view is strengthened by intimation from German diplomatic quarters that Germany is likely to decline to give details of the proposed conference, insisting that acceptance of the conference be not conditional upon any limitations of its scope. This firmness on the part of Germany is chiefly responsible for the renewal of the excitement on the bourse and the widespread uneasiness in parliament and among the public.

This was increased by the publication in the sensational afternoon papers of maps showing the dispositions of the French and German military forces along the frontier, accompanied by interviews setting forth the gloominess of the situation and the belief that Germany's reply to the French note would increase the difficulties of the government. The officials here fully recognize the condition of public apprehension and while admitting that the negotiations are in a delicate stage, insist that there is no cause for alarmist views. They point out as favorable symptoms that Emperor William is yachting at Kiel and the German commander of the forces around Metz has departed upon furlough.

CRISIS COMES WITH CHINESE

Boycott Against American Goods Assumes Serious Aspect.

THE CABINET ACTS

Secretary Hay Is Assigned the Task of Conciliating the Celestial Empire.

TO SUPERVISE IMMIGRATION

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.

Secretary of State Hay has been assigned the task of smoothing out the ruffled peacock feathers of the Chinese government and lifting the boycott on American goods that threatens to give our growing trade with the orient a serious setback. The administration has been brought face to face with the fact that something must be done at once to allay the feeling of resentment in China against the rigorous enforcement of the Chinese exclusion laws. The subject was the principal topic discussed at the cabinet meeting today, the last meeting that will be held this summer, and at which every member was in attendance. President Roosevelt made it plain that he would not tolerate any unfair treatment of the Chinese.

The subject was brought up at today's meeting as the result of the receipt of a cable yesterday from the agent of an American flour exporting house at Hongkong stating that something must be done immediately or a general boycott upon American goods would be declared. The Chinese guilds have entered into an agreement by which if any member buys a dollar's worth of American goods he is subject to a heavy penalty.

Immigration Officials Blamed.

It is the general opinion in administration circles that the fault is principally with a lack of judgment on the part of the immigration officials, instead of with the law itself. Complaints of students, merchants and prominent men of China that they have been held up at American ports and denied entrance or subjected to great embarrassment, are responsible for the feeling prevalent in China. Secretary of War Taft is one of those who believe the administration of the law is at fault. He said:

"This is getting to be a serious matter. The Chinese are slow in getting a thing into their heads, but once there, it is hard to get it out. That is going to be our trouble. If the Chinese come to the conclusion that we are not treating them right they will resort to nearly anything in the shape of a boycott and it will take us years to change their minds. The trouble is due to the mistakes made in the administration of the law more than to the law itself. If less time were spent in trying to find evidence against innocent Chinamen it would be better as many Chinamen have been arrested who ought not to have been given this trouble."

Not of One Opinion.

But Secretary Metcalf stands by the bureau of immigration and contends that the law is not harshly administered. "This is shown," he said, "in the fact that out of 73 students who claimed admission last year, 71 were admitted. But the claim is made that it is the Chinese merchants who are given trouble and who are held up and required to furnish proof that their certificates are not fraudulent. It is true that there are hundreds of fraudulent certificates in use by Chinamen, but I do not believe it is true that merchants are held up as coolies. Any man experienced with Chinamen can tell a coolie by looking at him. His shoulders, from hard labor, are callous. So are his hands, and he has a different face from an intelligent merchant. The law requires that every Chinaman coming to this country shall have a certificate signed by a Chinese official and countersigned by an American consul. There are so many of these false certificates in use that our officials have a hard time in preventing a deluge of Chinese coolies coming in under the pretense that they are merchants or students.

"I realize that we want to have amicable commercial relations with China and hope that this matter will be adjusted. For the first 10 months of the present fiscal year our trade in cotton goods with China amounted to $21,000,000 against just a little over $3,000,000 for the same period of the previous fiscal year. It will be a loss to disturb this trade and I hope it will not be done."

L. W. STRAYER.

RIDGELEY CAUSES A STIR IN THE NATIONAL BANKS

Comptroller of the Currency Adopts a Plan Whereby Directors Must Understand the Condition of Financial Institutions.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 23.—W. B. Ridgeley, comptroller of the currency, has adopted a plan which is reported to be causing some commotion in certain national banks throughout the country. Responses to letters written by the comptroller concerning laxities or errors in national banks are now required to be signed by all the directors.

Mr. Ridgeley for years has been urging that the cure for bank failures is to compel bank directors to direct. He has pointed out that in many cases where banks have failed it has been shown upon investigation that the directors of the institution were not in touch with its workings.

Hitherto whenever a bank examiner has reported loose methods or carelessness in a bank the comptroller has written a letter to the bank about it. Usually replies were received from the president or the cashier explaining the matter or "promising to be good."

Now all letters go out in the same manner addressed to the bank, but at the foot is a note stating that a reply must be signed by each director of the bank. This is done for the purpose of making each director cognizant of the criticisms in question.

On the North Side.

MANY ARE KILLED IN POLISH RIOTS

Troops Charge the Barricades Erected by Strikers at Lodz. Number Wounded.

LODZ, RUSSIAN POLAND, June 23.—Troops stormed the barricades erected in the streets by strikers today. Fifty persons have been killed and 200 wounded. Martial law will be declared.

Since early this morning this city has been in a state of panic. The strike is general and all the factories and the shops are closed. Barricades have been erected at many points. Rifle volleys and revolver shots are heard continually.

Many more persons have been killed or wounded, but it is impossible at present to ascertain the number with any exactitude, owing to the general character of the disturbances.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 23.—The viceroyalty of the far east having been abolished by the imperial ukase of June 21, Admiral Alexieff has been appointed a member of the council of the empire. He will continue to hold his position as aide-de-camp-general to the emperor.

The announcement of Admiral Alexieff's retirement was not accompanied by the usual rescript of praise, and it bears all the earmarks of imperial disfavor. The retirement of Grand Duke Alexis as high admiral and Alexieff as viceroy of the far east and the suppression of the far eastern committee in quick succession is the best evidence that Japan could need that the emperor has washed his hands of the whole Manchurian adventure.

According to advices received here the situation in Poland is again exceedingly serious. Censored dispatches from Lodz indicate that fierce street fighting was in progress yesterday between the troops and striking workmen. The list of dead and wounded presumably is heavy.

Lodz has been in a turmoil for the past three days. The strike, which embraces 60,000 workmen, appears to have entirely lost its economic nature and is now a vast political manifestation. The political zeal of the manifestants has become inflamed by intoxicants from the vodka shops, which were broken into and pillaged yesterday.

At Warsaw a strike has commenced and disorders are looked for and the trial of Okrjey, who threw a bomb at a police station March 26, will probably result in other bomb outrages. A man was arrested yesterday morning armed with a bomb, which evidently was to be used in court during the trial.

RICH GRAFT IN READING.

Controller Says the Berks County Poor Board Is "Honeycombed With Graft."

READING, PA., June 23.—County Controller Livingood today filed his report in regard to the poor house investigation which has been in progress for three months. He says the institution was "honeycombed with graft," adding that the graft aggregated thousands of dollars.

The controller recommends that criminal proceedings be instituted against Oliver C. Stitler, former steward, and that the entire board of directors be removed.

ALFONSO APPROVES HIS NEW CABINET

Weyler; minister of marine, Senor Villanueva; minister of agriculture, Senor Romanones; minister of justice, Senor Gonzales Pena; minister of public instruction, Senor Mellardo.

BROOKLYN GIRL BROKE HIS HEART

Prof. C. C. Rice of Lincoln Was Disappointed in Love When Dementia Overcame Him.

WANTS TO GO TO SEE HER

With the arrival here yesterday of J. B. Rice of Lincoln, Neb., father of Professor C. C. Rice, who has been confined at St. Francis hospital all week suffering from dementia, the story of the young man's trouble developed.

His heart had been broken by a Brooklyn girl, who refused to marry him. A letter was found by his parents which showed that such was the case, and it offers one explanation of the condition of his mind. It is supposed that he was brooding over his troubles on his way from Lincoln to Brooklyn, and at Allegheny lost control of himself and wandered from the train, not knowing where he was going.

The father called at the hospital yesterday morning and, as the son was quiet at that time, took him over to Allegheny and the two called on Henry Hunnesshagen, director of charities, who had sent Professor Rice to St. Francis. The young man's mind was lucid and it was the intention to start back to Lincoln with him, but it was soon learned that he would not stand for such a plan. He wanted to go on to Brooklyn, and it was finally arranged that he should be made to believe that such was the route, but instead he would be taken to Lincoln. A change of plan again was necessary and the young man was taken back to St. Francis. The start for the west will probably be made today.

The father discovered that a watch valued at $100, presented to Professor Rice by some former pupils, was missing. The watch apparently went the way of his coat and vest, which had been thrown off when the police found him. The Allegheny police are trying to locate it.

WEDDING FOLLOWS FUNERAL.

Youngwood Woman Becomes Wife of Late Husband's Friend, After Returning from Cemetery.

GREENSBURG, June 23.—(Special.)—Mrs. Theodore Molnocloyic of Youngwood yesterday became the wife of one of her husband's friends after Molnocloyic was buried in the Catholic cemetery northeast of Greensburg. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in Greensburg. Headed by a military band the cortege was driven through the principal streets of Greensburg.

The burial rites over the party returned to Youngwood where the marriage was celebrated. It is said that the husband knew that death was near and had asked one of his nearest friends to marry his widow.

The fire burned down into the second floor and also through the partition wall into the building of the Robert McCoy Co., wholesale grocers at 1015 Liberty, which was gutted by fire two weeks ago.

The blaze was finally gotten under control and was practically extinguished by 4 o'clock. The loss was about $6,000.

ALLEGHENIANS TO TAKE LEAD

Committee of North Siders Will Doubtless Be at Helm in Greater City Movement.

FAILURE OF PARADE SCHEME

While the enemies of a Greater Pittsburgh are threatening to appeal to the courts to have the Goehring act declared unconstitutional, the friends of this progressive movement are not scared—prompt steps will be taken to give the people of Allegheny an opportunity to say by their votes whether they want to be annexed to Pittsburgh.

While the chamber of commerce will give great assistance to any plan to secure a union of the municipalities, the opinion prevails that Alleghenians should be at the helm in the movement. Some committee or organization on the North Side will doubtless take the lead and have charge of the work of securing the necessary per cent of the qualified voters to a petition praying for the courts to set the machinery of the Goehring annexation act in motion. Many of the most prominent people in Allegheny have declared in favor of a greater city. It is altogether probable that the chamber of commerce will cheerfully assist any North Side committee that takes charge of the work.

H. D. W. English, chairman of the municipal affairs committee of the chamber of commerce, has arranged for a meeting of his committee on Tuesday. The Goehring act will then be taken up and a discussion of what should be done will follow.

Waiting for Cooler Weather.

Personally, Mr. English favors waiting until after the heated term before an attempt is made to proceed with any annexation program. He thinks the feeling is running too high now for a temperate discussion of the issues.

City Solicitor W. B. Rodgers says he will not ask for a reargument of the Cook act. He announces the case is ended. As he reads the decision there is no ground for a reargument. The opinion was expressed that it would be difficult to frame a bill to meet the objections of the supreme court. Mr. Cook favors the advocacy before the next legislature of a general annexation measure. He believes, however, the Goehring act is sufficiently general in its scope to bring it within the bounds of the constitution under the latest interpretation of the supreme court.

While there is talk of a fight being made against the constitutionality of the Goehring act, no one has been found who is willing to lead the fight. The Allegheny public defense committee management says it will not ask the courts to test the law. There is a rumor that an attempt may be made to have some opponent of the Esplen annexation to Pittsburgh start proceedings. This borough is now trying to become a ward of Pittsburgh under the provisions of the Goehring act. The necessary petition has been filed with the court and the ordinance is pending in Pittsburgh councils.

Allegheny Will Not Parade.

Allegheny will not hold a jubilee to ratify the action of the supreme court in pronouncing the Cook Greater Pittsburgh act unconstitutional. Yesterday there was talk of a parade, fireworks and oratory as means of venting the jubilant spirits of the North Siders, but when the sun refused to shine and nobody came forward with the wherewithal to start a fund, it acted like a wet blanket on the anti-annexationists. A meeting was called last night to make the preliminary arrangements for a celebration, but there was no quorum.

It is probable that those who backed the proceedings to test the constitutionality of the bill will take similar action against the Goehring act in case further effort is taken to bring about the annexation of the two cities under that law. Thomas G. Sample stated yesterday that no plan had been mapped out for this procedure but that an aggressive campaign still would be waged.

Mayor Wyman, who some time ago declared himself unqualifiedly favorable to a Greater Pittsburgh, has changed his attitude. He spent little time in his office yesterday and when asked if he would favor an election under the provisions of the Goehring law he answered in a way to indicate that, as usual, he is on the fence.

MORTON TO PROBE DEEPEST OF ALL

He Learns Enough to Know That Only Surface of Equitable Scandal Is Scratched.

FINDS SHOCKING CONDITIONS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 23.

Definite statements were made today by persons in a position to know the facts that Paul Morton, chairman of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, with the full knowledge and approval of the new owner of the society, Thomas F. Ryan, would, in his own investigation of affairs, delve deeper than either the Frick committee or State Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks.

James H. Hyde, through his counsel, Samuel Untermyer, has indicated to Attorney General Mayer his willingness to facilitate the attorney general's proposed suit against "James H. Hyde and associates" for the return of the profits received by them in the syndicate transactions in which the Equitable society was involved.

Attorney General Mayer informed Mr. Hyde he will avail himself of the offer to expedite an immediate determination in regard to the matter.

It is only the surface of the scandal that has been scratched, according to information that is reliable. What remains beneath, if the surface alone presents such shocking revelations as those made public by Mr. Frick and Mr. Hendricks, was not definitely stated, but it is well known that several departments have not yet been examined, and the real estate holdings, both those owned direct and those held under other and individual names, have not been indicated and appraised.

The Frick committee's report urged that investigation of the society's affairs be prosecuted further, while Mr. Hendricks denominates his own report as "preliminary" and is himself going to make a fuller and more definite report. In addition to this latter and more exhaustive inquiry, it has already been announced that Paul Morton is prosecuting an independent investigation, conducted on his behalf by chartered and certified accountants.

Mr. Morton Is Appalled.

According to the reports which, as already stated, came from a high source today, Mr. Morton was appalled at some of the things he has been informed were done under the sanction of officers or directors of the society. Mr. Morton did not, of course, expect on taking the chairmanship of the society to find a rose garden. But he did not expect to find such conditions as have been disclosed.

Syndicate operations already disclosed were bad enough, but only the syndicate operations were disclosed in which the society participated. The syndicates of other characters, in which even the society would not purchase securities, are said to disclose some remarkable operations.

Confronted with the possibility of disclosures even more damaging than those which had gone before, Mr. Morton is said to have gone to Mr. Ryan and asked him if he would reaffirm the original statement that he (Mr. Morton) could go to the bottom of the affair without fear and without favor and irrespective of individuals.

"Get at the bottom, and get at the truth," Mr. Ryan is reported as having said.

Will Demand Restitution.

Some of these disclosures are against former officers, some against trustees and some against individuals who held executive offices in auxiliary companies. Wherever money has been obtained, on bonuses to secure loans and the like, it is asserted actions will be begun to collect the amounts to which the society was lawfully entitled, had nothing been diverted from its treasury to the private pockets of officials.

In connection with the report, names of several individuals who have not heretofore figured prominently in the Equitable scandal were mentioned. One man, formerly very prominently identified with a department of the society, who did not enjoy an extravagant salary as salaries went in later days in the Equitable and was said to have accumulated upward of $5,000,000, will, according to the current story, be called on to restore some portion of this immense sum to the institution or stand a lawsuit.

The name of an appraiser, who in a period of about two years, is stated to have amassed upward of $1,000,000, is also prominently mentioned.

A number of agents who have worked under the management of Archibald C. Haynes, a general agent for the Equitable in this city, resigned today. Mr. Haynes had a larger force of agents than any other manager employed by the Equitable society. Today he called his men together, told them business had been miserable since the publication of the company's affairs, and said he knew many of them could not afford to continue without doing any business. He added that in view of the present conditions if any of them wished to resign they could do so without the slightest hard feeling on his part.

The regular summer vacation of the court of general sessions will be suspended this year, so that the court may be available if District Attorney Jerome begins proceedings in connection with the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society. This action was taken at the request of District Attorney Jerome.

No one is watching the developments in the Equitable with greater interest than is Brayton Ives, a former director in the society, and a member of the Frick investigating committee.

Ives' Advice Was Sound.

"The truth of the statement I made in addresses at the last two meetings of the directors of the Equitable is being realized," Mr. Ives said today. "In those speeches I said the best advice the closest friends of Messrs. Alexander and Hyde could possibly give to them was to resign, and the one that resigned first would stand best in the estimation of the public.

"It seems to me the revelations up to date cannot result in anything but better conditions for the assured, lower premiums and greater safety. I do not see how there is to be any relief without legislative action, and I believe that will come. As I said at the beginning, the stock will have to be got rid of. Although there has been a change in the holdings of the control of the stock of the Equitable, the same conditions prevail."

PEACE THE THEME OF THE PILGRIMS

Roberts and Balfour Praise the President's Efforts at Dinner to Mr. Reid.

LEADING MEN ARE PRESENT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 23.—Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, tonight was guest of honor at a dinner given by the Pilgrims society of London at Claridge's.

Lord Roberts presided and among the prominent Englishmen and Americans present were: Premier Balfour, Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, the archdeacon of London, Sir A. Conan Doyle, Sir Henry Irving, Henry Watterson, Elbridge T. Gerry and Bishop Doane of Albany. Lord Roberts in proposing a toast to King Edward and President Roosevelt, praised the latter's efforts in behalf of peace. Premier Balfour, in toasting the guest of the evening, said President Roosevelt had taken the right time and used exactly the right means of initiating negotiations which every man in Great Britain and every man in the civilized world desired should end in the termination of the war.

Ambassador Reid received an enthusiastic reception on rising to reply, the company singing "America" and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Mr. Reid said that Great Britain and the United States in their mission of promoting the peace of the world should become better acquainted by the intervisiting of the two peoples, such as the coming trip to America of Lord Roberts, who was sure to receive a warm welcome.

Sir Henry Irving read a poem written for the occasion by Alfred Austin, the poet laureate.

Field Marshal Sir George White, governor of Gibraltar, proposed the toast of "The Pilgrims." Speaking of the new United States fleet, he said it was to guard the coast of America and the neighboring countries from evildoers.

Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, former American minister to Spain, replied for the American Pilgrims and Dr. Conan Doyle for the British Pilgrims.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, in proposing the health of Lord Roberts, briefly referred to Mr. Reid's former visits to England, and spoke of how glad England was to welcome him back.

LAKE SHORE OFFERS A REWARD OF $2,000

Effort to Apprehend the Person Who Caused Wreck—Jewels Found in Debris.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, June 23.—The Lake Shore Railway Company tonight offered a reward of $2,000 for the arrest or for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons responsible for the wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited at Mentor last Wednesday night.

State Railroad Commissioner J. C. Morris with Inspector O. F. Jackson of Springfield arrived at Mentor today to take personal charge of the investigation into the wreck. "That the switch was open," said Morris, "is beyond all doubt. The condition of the roadbed and the rails demonstrate that the engine did not jump the track until it had proceeded 50 feet along the siding. That switch must have been thrown just before the engine reached it."

A bag containing jewels valued at $32,000, the property of S. C. Beckwith of New York, supposed to have been stolen from the wrecked train at Mentor, was found today. It had been picked up in the wreckage and brought to the Lake Shore claim agent's office at Cleveland. Before the whereabouts of the jewels was known a search had been started for them on behalf of Mrs. Beckwith. Mr. Beckwith died soon after being removed from the wreck.

I AM BOSS OF CINCINNATI, BOLDLY ADMITS MR. COX

Republican Leader in Queen City Comes Back Hard at Lincoln Steffens, Who Called Him Grafter. Says Herrick Kicked Writer Out.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., June 23.—Lincoln Steffens' article in the current number of McClure's Magazine, on Ohio politics and bossism in Cincinnati has led George B. Cox, the leader of the Republican organization, to issue a statement as follows:

"This man has not written a true statement of what he found when he visited Cincinnati. The first time I met Lincoln Steffens he told me Cincinnati was the best-governed city in the United States.

"I am the boss of Cincinnati. I never dodged that statement in my life, and I've got the best system of government in this country. If I didn't think my system was the best I would consider that I was a failure in life. If there is anything the matter with Cincinnati it's up to the people.

"Steffens says I am worth a couple of millions and the Lord knows how much more. Well, I wish I was. I need it in my business. I am not worth two million, nor nothing like it.

"Steffens says I'm a grafter. Well, my word has been tested in Cincinnati for 30 years and I guess it's as good as his. He ain't no fit censor of public morals; he is just a sarcastic little fellow who is going around the country finding fault with other people's business and writing stories to sell to a magazine. Gov. Herrick kicked him out of his office in Columbus a year or so ago.

"Steffens found fault with me because I was president of a bank and said I had so arranged that this bank got special city privileges and that I got a rake off out of it. I am president of the bank and it's the business of the bank to get all the deposits it can. Can't a man be in business and in politics at the same time and be honest?"

SELLS $14,000 IN STOCKS FOR A WORTHLESS CHECK

Victim's Lawyer Publishes a Warning to Persons Who Attempt to Deal With It—Has Gone Up $1,000.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 23.—Somewhere there are 500 shares of Rock Island stock which Percy S. Dudley, a lawyer, is advertising as having been stolen from a client of his. In his advertisement the numbers of the missing stock certificates are given and it is stated that "persons dealing with the same do so at their peril." A representative of Mr. Dudley today said:

"Our advertisement is really a warning. All I can say is that a client of ours sold the stock and received a check for it, which the bank refused to pay. The check was for $14,000. Our client knew, or thought he knew, the man who got the stock. It would appear to be a case of misplaced confidence. We do not know just where the stock is now. Perhaps the man who got it still has it."

Since the check for the Rock Island stock was drawn and given to Mr. Dudley's client its market price has advanced and it was worth more than $15,000 today.

GOVERNOR OF HAWAII HAS RESIGNED FROM OFFICE

Mails His Resignation to President Roosevelt and Is Coming on to Confer With Him About It.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HONOLULU, June 23.—Gov. Carter mailed his resignation to President Roosevelt Wednesday. He will leave June 28 for Washington to discuss the matter. He has been in cable correspondence with the president regarding it and has received permission to go to Washington for a personal interview.

Gov. Carter's resignation was first written June 6, but was withheld on the advice of friends, who asked him not to send it to Washington. The resignation was the culmination of a long series of events which led Gov. Carter to the conclusion he had been of more service to the territory of Hawaii outside the gubernatorial chair than in that position.

Territorial Secretary Atkinson arrived today from China. He had been spoken of as a possible successor to Gov. Carter. This, however, has been found to be impossible, because he is only 34 years old and the law requires the governor to be at least 35. Among those mentioned in connection with the office are, H. E. Cooper, W. O. Smith, Edward Tenney, H. P. Baldwin and Senator Dowsett.

THOUSANDS AFFLICTED WITH THE "LAZY WORM"

Uncle Sam Will Spend $15,000 in Eradicating the Disease in Porto Rico.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—According to a report received by the surgeon general of the army from Capt. B. K. Ashford, assistant surgeon and head of the Porto Rican anemia commission, 25 per cent of the 100,000 Porto Ricans living in the vicinity of Aibonito, near the center of the island, are afflicted with the "lazy worm."

Headquarters and a field hospital have just been established by the commission at Aibonito and an appropriation of $15,000 will be expended in the eradication of the disease according to the methods so successfully applied by Capt. Ashford last year. His record then was 4,500 cases treated with an appropriation of $5,000. The treatment adopted has proved successful in nearly every case.

The Porto Ricans have never understood the disease and believed it incurable. The many cures have aroused the population to great enthusiasm and the afflicted are applying in great numbers for treatment.

DISMISSES THE CASES.

Autoists Who Are Charged With Exceeding the Speed Limit Offer Various Excuses.

David Kirk of No. 5815 Fifth avenue; Herman Schlelein of No. 1725 Fremont street, Allegheny; A. D. Baxter of Negley avenue, and John A. Cepping of Lang avenue, arrested on complaint of Inspector McAvoy on a charge of exceeding the speed limit in their automobiles, were given a hearing before Magistrate E. C. Negley last night. Officers Golden and Corbett were the witnesses, both testifying that the drivers of the automobiles had exceeded the speed limit. Schlelein was represented by an attorney, and claimed that on the date that he was charged with the offense, that he was not out in his machine. Baxter claimed that he did not own a machine, but it developed later that his wife did. He then said that he was having the number painted on his machine and thought that some one had used the same number as his.

Kirk admitted being out at the time claimed, but said that he was not running his machine. He also said that the machine was out of order and could not be stopped without necessitating a stop of over half an hour to repair, and that he had kept it running until he reached home.

All the men were discharged, as there was not sufficient evidence to warrant their being held.

ENGINEER HILL AGAIN ARRESTED

Former Chief of Philadelphia Filtration Bureau Charged With Forgery.

FAVORS SHOWN M'NICHOLS

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—An additional warrant was issued today for the arrest of John W. Hill, former chief of the filtration bureau, on charge of forgery in connection with filtration contracts. Mr. Hill on Wednesday was given a hearing before a magistrate on similar charges and is now under $5,000 bail for his appearance at court. As in the case of the previous warrant, the affidavit was signed by Captain of Detectives James I. Donaghy, and charges Mr. Hill as chief of the bureau of filtration with forgery in causing the utterance and publication of false records of work done by Daniel J. McNichol, a contractor, to defraud the city. The contracts in connection with which the alleged offense was committed are not specified in the affidavit.

The warrant was served on Mr. Hill by Captain Donaghy while he was in conference with Attorney Magill, his counsel. The former filtration chief was taken to the city hall and arraigned for a hearing in the central police court before Magistrate Eisenbrown. As the hearing was about to begin Mr. Magill, counsel for Hill, addressed the court and said:

> Mr. J. W. Hill appears before you now for the second time in 48 hours. At the previous hearing you held him in $5,000 for court. He is here again in response to an affidavit, which, with the exception of one or two words, appears to be an exact copy of the first one.

No Ordinary Criminal.

> I understand the prosecution proposes to press for an immediate hearing under this affidavit. I would ask that you allow us reasonable time in which to prepare, so that we may be able to answer a charge the very nature of which we do not know, and intimation of which is in the affidavit. Mr. Hill is no ordinary criminal. To press for a hearing at this time partakes of persecution. I appeal for a continuance."

In reply, Lawyer Gordon, for the prosecution, said:

> I very gladly take the opportunity to outline the facts upon which the charges are based. I agree with Mr. Magill as to his saying that his client is not an ordinary criminal. He is an extraordinary one, extraordinary in the manner in which he has continued to perpetrate his crimes. He deserves all the superlatives that can be applied to him.
>
> This charge is the same as the former one, except that it deals with another instance. At the last hearing, Mr. Hill was charged with forgery under contracts Nos. 17 and 19, aggregating about $30,000. I wish now to show independently a series of forgeries amounting to $40,000 that were brought directly home to Chief Hill and to show it by entirely new witnesses.

Allege $40,000 Frauds.

Charles H. Worman, auditor in the city controller's office, was called to the stand to produce 11 warrants paid to Contractor McNichol for work done. These warrants were issued on the reports of the assistant engineer in charge of the work, and John W. Hill, as consulting engineer. They covered a period dating from March 17, 1902, to February 7, 1905, inclusive.

"It is in these payments," said the prosecuting attorney, "that I will show frauds amounting to $40,000, charged for excavating over 18 feet. But I will state now that in the first two estimates of work done there was no charge for excavation over that limit. In all the others we will prove padding."

Henry G. Garrett, formerly employed in the filtration bureau as a clerk, was one of the principal witnesses against Mr. Hill. He testified to having discovered discrepancies in the statements on which the warrants for the payment to the contractors were issued. In one case where the contract called for only 10 cubic yards of excavation the report showed 6,756.6 cubic yards excavated. Garrett testified he noticed excesses in other estimates of more than $40,000.

Say Estimate Was Raised.

In summing up, the prosecution called attention to five bids received in July, 1901, at which time a Mr. Wallace was the lowest bidder. These bids were rejected and bids were again asked for. Three were received. Although D. J. McNichol's first bid was $3.13 a cubic yard, his second was $4.50, said Mr. Gordon, and notwithstanding he was the highest bidder he received the contract for an estimated excavation of 10 cubic yards at $4.50 per cubic yard, and this estimate Mr. Gordon said, Hill raised to 2,360.4 cubic yards without any authorization. "This," declared Mr. Gordon, "shows the length, breadth and depth of this conspiracy."

Mr. Magill, in summing up for the defendant, said nothing had been produced to show his client was guilty of the offense charged, and he accused Mr. Gordon of going outside the evidence bearing on the charge of forgery.

At the conclusion of the hearing former Chief Hill was held in $2,000 bail for trial, making his total bail $10,000 for the charges preferred against him this week. William Waterall, a manufacturer, became his bondsman. Both cases against Mr. Hill will be returned to court at once.

Investigating Registration.

Mayor Weaver today decided on a special session of city councils to take up the matter of city finances and to consider propositions for the removal of dangerous railroad grade crossings.

It is probable the campaign to be inaugurated against the Republican organization in this city will not begin until September. It was announced today that the City party, which is backed by the committee of 70, will make no nominations for county offices until fall. The Republicans have already named their ticket, but it has been suggested that the nominees withdraw and a new set of nominations made, because of the prominence of the candidates in the gas lease fight. If this suggestion is adopted it is probable the Republicans will not name a new ticket until September.

The City party in a few days will have 5,000 men at work making a canvass of voters of the city, in order to purge the registration lists of bogus names. This canvass will be entirely independent of that made by the 1,000 assessors in the employ of the city.

JAPANESE CEASE THEIR ADVANCE

Respite May Be Only Precursor To Gigantic Battle That Is Now Inevitable.

PEACE MEASURES ARE DELAYED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

GUNSHU PASS, MANCHURIA, June 23.—The Japanese are no longer pressing the Russians south, and doubt is now entertained as to whether the weak offensive is the precursor of a big battle or a diplomatic manoeuvre. Belief in the prompt conclusion of peace is weakening.

TOKYO, June 23.—The following official dispatch has been received today from the headquarters of the Japanese armies in Manchuria:

"In the vicinity of Yingecheng June 21, a thousand of the enemy's infantry pressing our scouts advanced and when they reached Hsiangyangcheu, 20 miles southeast of Wankautszeau, our forces repulsed them with heavy loss and pursued them to the vicinity of Weiyuanpaomen. After our force which occupied Yangmulintzu June 19, had completed their mission, they returned.

"The enemy, consisting of three battalions and four squadrons with 12 guns, advanced through the eastern districts of the Kirin road and moved southward June 21. From 11:30 in the morning his infantry gradually appeared on the heights between Chapengan and Lichiatun, and his artillery posted on the heights of Lienhuachiee shelled the northern heights of Nanchehendzy. Our force after a few hours engagement, assaulted this offensive, completely repulsed the enemy, captured the heights and pursued him."

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(Special.)—Count Lamsdorff's illness has prevented as rapid progress as was hoped for in the peace negotiations. Japan having declined to agree to an armistice unless Russia asked for one, President Roosevelt went to work to persuade the Russian government that it would be the part of wisdom so to do. Mr. Meyer was engaged in delicate negotiations to this end when Count Lamsdorff was taken ill. That is the reason why President Roosevelt was unable upon his return to Washington to make announcement that further plans had been agreed upon.

Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, called at the White House tonight and had a long conference with the president. The minister would have nothing to say about his conference or the situation at this time beyond remarking that "some matters must be settled first," when asked about an armistice.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 23.—There is not likely to be any further move in the direction of an armistice until the plenipotentiaries are appointed and the time of their meeting is definitely fixed. Japan seems unwilling to discuss any new issue until these questions are settled. This does not necessarily mean that all hope of arranging a suspension of hostilities before the meeting has disappeared, but the indication of Japan's mood increases the doubt as to whether she could be induced to relinquish temporarily the strategic advantages which she evidently believes she enjoys.

On account of Foreign Minister Lamsdorff's illness Ambassador Meyer was unable to have a personal interview with him either yesterday or today, but it is believed communications from Washington are passing in writing. Count Lamsdorff has had a touch of heart trouble, and his physician again today forbade him to leave his room, but promised to allow the minister to go to the chancellory tomorrow.

QUESTION OF BUTTONS.

It Is Waived by Employers, Removing Only Obstacle in Settlement of Teamsters' Strike.

CHICAGO, June 23.—All the obstacles which have prevented an ending of the teamsters' strike tonight appear to have been eliminated and indications are that unless something unforeseen develops the strike will soon cease. "At a meeting today between a committee of strikers and J. V. Farwell, Jr., for the Employers' association, the question of a conspicuous display of the union button, which has been opposed by the employers, was settled. This question is to be left to the employers individually, the association agreeing to withdraw its demand for the elimination of the union emblem.

As the button has been a stumbling block during the latest efforts to reach a peaceable settlement of the difficulty, it is the general belief the trouble is drawing to a close, as all the other terms of settlement made by the employers have been tentatively accepted by the representatives of the strikers.

Shot Increases Production.

BUTLER, June 23.—(Special.)—The effect of a three-quart glycerine shot on the old McBride Southern gusher on the Waldron farm was to raise its production to 85 barrels an hour for some time today. Tonight the well is flowing 50 barrels an hour. No. 2 is doing 15 barrels an hour. Jenning Brothers have a 30-barrel well in the No. 2 on the disputed Samuel Schlagel lease, on which a guard of 50 men was kept for several days.

PITTSBURGH WINS IN TURNER EVENT

Harry Kramer, Central Verein, Beats Visiting German Team in Running Broad Jump.

GIRLS GIVE FINE EXHIBITION

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
J. D. IHMSEN, Staff Correspondent.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 23.—As the end of the Turners' festival approaches, interest in the exhibition of muscle at the state fair grounds increases. Today the principal class contests that will decide the athletic standing of the different Turner societies in the country, as represented by their teams on the ground, were held; tomorrow there will be more class work, but most of the day will be devoted to work that will decide the prize winners among the individual Turners.

It was a field day for Pittsburgh, for one of her athletes won the running broad jump, although, of course, no official announcement of the fact was made. The 20 young women of the Central Turnverein covered themselves with glory, giving a fine exhibition of grace and agility.

The running broad jump was won by Harry Kramer of the Central Turnverein. He jumped 19 feet 4 inches, the honor of making the best jump being accentuated by the fact that the next best was made by one of the famous team of German Turners visiting here. He jumped 19 feet 2 inches. The admiration of Turners from other cities was aroused by the fact that six members of the Central verein jumped over 19 feet, and three of these belong to the Sauer family.

Harry Kramer also distinguished himself in the 100-yard dash. This event was won by one of the Germans, who made the distance in 10 4-5 seconds, but Kramer approached these figures more than any other runner, making the distance in 11 seconds.

The exhibition of the Central verein girls was given after several other squads of young women of western societies had given wand and dumbbell exercises. The evolutions of the Pittsburgh girls were difficult and intricate, but the manner in which they went through the combined hoop and Indian club drill, under the direction of Emil Rath, brought out thunders of applause from the grandstand and from the field, where more than 2,000 Turners were assembled. The girls who took part were the Misses Lily Becker, Florence Bonnett, Frances Bonnett, Bertha Sauer, Carrie Sauer, Della Keebler, Stella Ehmann, Clara Ehmann, Pauline Rinehart, Macca Fallenstein, Alice McFall, Selma Braeutigam, Louise Braeutigam, Flora Menzenmaier, Christina Hanson, Edna Myers, Bertha Rath, Amelia Mann, Martha Scholtz and Clara Yeckel.

All the Pittsburgh district societies took part in the field exercises today. The program called for tactics, dumbbell and wand exercises, class and individual competition in apparatus work, and model exercises. The different events were the broad jump, 100-yard dash, horizontal and parallel bar and horse exercises. As usual, the Central, South Side and Allegheny societies of the Pittsburgh district were the most prominent, because of their number. Of the Pittsburgh societies in the exercises, their athletes gave a good account of themselves in the apparatus work and the running and jumping. The members of the Central verein think they ought to get the first prize for their drill work in model exercises.

Tomorrow the competitive field gymnastics, special work, model exercises by districts and cities will take place. The rest of the day will be taken up in dances and entertainments, a summer night's festival, several commers and the yearly meeting of the instructors of the Turners' Federation. The field gymnastics will be concluded Sunday morning, after which there will be a banquet in honor of the pioneers and veterans, a picnic at Germania park, and finally, the distribution of diplomas and wreaths to the winners of the athletic contests.

CORPORATION MEASURES CAUSE MANY WRANGLES

Ordinances in Which Street Railway and Lightning Companies Are Interested Are Considered in Allegheny.

The committee on corporations of Allegheny councils yesterday wrangled nearly all afternoon over a lot of street railway and Allegheny County Light Company ordinances. The Pittsburgh Railways Company asks that the mayor be authorized to enter into contracts with the company that each pay to the other one dollar in consideration of an agreement that the time for complying with the provisions of four of the old Mellon franchises now owned by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, be postponed indefinitely. The ordinance was opposed by Thomas W. Harvey, Samuel F. Boyd, Robert K. Cochrane and John H. Keane, who insist that the company keep its promises to build a line on Spring Hill. Francis J. Torrance, Samuel McElroy and Thomas McHenry favored it.

All of the measures were ordered printed except the one granting a franchise to the Allegheny, Bellevue & Perrysville Railway Company, which was laid over, the vote on it being 8 to 8. This franchise begins at East and Elmira streets, running along Elmira street to Howard avenue, to North avenue, to Middle street, to Third street and returning by the same route. The ordinance repealing an ordinance granting a franchise to the Howard & East Street Railway Company was ordered printed without opposition.

The first Allegheny County Light Company ordinance authorized the mayor to execute and deliver a contract relative to the trouble between the city and the light company regarding the payment of pole tax for the past seven years, and a bill the light company has against the city for furnishing electric light when the city's light plant broke down. Director McIlvain opposed the ordinance, claiming the company for 303 poles and the use of 397 belonging to the city, paid only $36 a year until 1902, and since that time not anything. The matter is now in the courts. The measure was referred negatively.

The other ordinance was one amending the ordinance granting the Allegheny Light Company a franchise to erect poles and string electric light wires in the city. The amendment is to the effect that the department of public works have charge of the erection of poles and the stringing of wires instead of the committee on streets and sewers. Morris Einstein opposed the ordinance. He said it was practically granting the light company a new ordinance, which would be unfair to the Pennsylvania Light and Power Company, of which firm he is a member. "Our company," he said, "has paid the city for pole tax and a percentage on gross receipts $20,000 within the last three years, while the Allegheny County Light Company has not paid over $1,000 in 24 years." The ordinance was also referred negatively.

PITTSBURGH DUNLAPS DO NOT KNOW RAILROAD VICTIM

Oscar Dunlap, member of a wealthy Pittsburgh family, according to a telegram from Kalamazoo, Mich., was run down and instantly killed, while his companion was badly hurt, while walking on the railroad near that place yesterday. Members of several prominent Pittsburgh families named Dunlap were interviewed but none knew the young man.

Silver Service for Brassert.

H. A. Brassert, who has resigned as superintendent of the Edgar Thomson blast furnaces at Braddock, was presented with a handsome silver service yesterday by the department heads of the plant at the weekly dinner in the Carnegie Steel Company clubhouse. Thomas Addenbrook made the presentation speech and addresses commending Mr. Brassert were also made by Col. Thomas Cosgrove, Superintendent John F. Lewis, Richard Stevens and others.

There is no dishonor in true economy. Therefore do not hesitate to systematically save and bank with the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Fourth avenue and Smithfield street, at four per cent interest, a fixed portion of every earned dollar.

WILL PRESENT NEW RULES TODAY

Mr. Magee Will Offer His Amendments to Republican County Committee.

CITIZENS ARE HAVING TROUBLE

The Republican county committee will this afternoon receive the Magee amendments to the party rules providing for a direct vote in the nomination of candidates. The committee will decide whether they will come up for final action within 10 days, or be delayed for a longer period, in order to give the question full consideration.

By a vote of 6 to 5 the joint rules committee yesterday afternoon adopted a resolution declaring in favor of the popular vote system of nominating. The motion was made by Col. W. E. Thompson and was seconded by Camuel Milliken. Neither the Crawford county nor Clarion county system was specified as there was a difference of opinion on this question. The committee was in session for over an hour and there was much discussion.

Former Senator W. A. Magee, who has drafted the new rules, says that as a member of the county committee he will today offer his rules as an amendment to the present party laws.

Some Favor Delay.

There are some members of the organization who believe the proposed amendment should lie over for sufficient time to give all of the committeemen an opportunity to study them. At least 10 days must elapse before the amendment can be voted on by the county committee. It will be decided today whether the Magee draft will be sent to a sub-committee for consideration or whether the committee will adjourn to a fixed date, at which time final action will be taken.

Harry S. Paul, chairman of the Allegheny county committee of the Union party, yesterday issued a statement in favor of the Crawford-Clarion county system of nominating, as he terms it. He says the adoption of rules putting this plan into effect would go far toward reuniting the Republican party in the county.

The Citizens party convention, to be held Tuesday, may not nominate fusion candidates for prothonotary and commissioner. The slate-makers are having trouble filling these two places and are afraid at present to allow the convention to act. There is a fight in the Young Men's Republican club, a payroll organization, over the nomination of a commissioner. The bosses have indicated that if the club is allowed to name a man, it must declare for Frank Harper. There is a faction for another man.

Mr. Price in Office.

C. B. Price, recently appointed county commissioner to succeed J. Carson Mercer, took the oath of office yesterday forenoon before Judge Frazer, who also approved the commissioner's bond of $10,000. The Pittsburgh Surety Company is the surety. Mr. Price was accompanied to the court by Commissioner Evans and Chief Clerk Harry T. Rowley. Owing to the absence of Commissioner Clark there was no organization yesterday. Mr. Price has not decided whether he will seek a Republican nomination for commissioner.

The matter of the declaration of the judges that the tax revision board act is unconstitutional has not yet been taken up by the commissioners for consideration.

Three members of the Thirty-ninth ward school board, A. J. Estep, William P. McMillen and Joseph Cooper, have filed answer to the rule granted to show cause why the members should not be ousted for failure to organize. They aver they are not to blame for the deadlock existing, as they offered to compromise when it became apparent that no election of president would result, but claim the other members refused.

Sing Their Way to Freedom.

Charles Wheatley, James Cook and John McCarran, East Liverpool youths, came to the city on Thursday to see the sights. Among the latter which fell under their inspection was the interior of a real city police station. The fact that the young men are vocalists first got them into trouble and then out again. They were singing on the lower avenues when taken into custody. Magistrate Kane listened to their story yesterday morning and offered them their liberty for a few bursts of melody. "Mr. Johnston, Turn Me Loose," was their offering, and they did it so well that the magistrate instantly complied.

The demand for a neat, well-fitting, stylish shoe for the flat price of $3.00 was met by these famous shoes. The demand for a low shoe, perfect in every respect, was met by Queen Quality at $2.50 the pair.

Lastly, they are splendid wearing shoes, as the thousands of women wearing them today will testify.

But to meet the demand, brought about by prosperous times all over the country, for something finer, we have introduced our "Custom Grade" of Queen Quality Shoes and Oxfords and in accordance with our established policy of giving the most for the money, the charge for these finer shoes is but an extra half dollar.

Saturday, June 24, 1905.

A fatal trolley collision occurred at Fishkill, N. Y., yesterday, which is deserving of as much attention as a railroad wreck. These roads are multiplying rapidly, and in some cases emulating the speed of steam roads while neglecting the ordinary precautions observed by the latter. There is room here for making radical reforms. Head-on collisions are among the least excusably causes of wrecks.

A situation has developed at Lodz that can only be described as intolerable. For months there have been frequent disturbances of the peace, which within the past few days have grown to civil war. The populace is turbulent and vindictive; the authorities needlessly severe and cruel. Declaration of martial law, however, presages an end to the demonstrations, though it is to be apprehended it will not come without much bloodshed.

Chairman Foss of the naval affairs committee draws the lesson of the Japanese-Russian naval encounters correctly in the one word "preparedness." An ample supply of vessels of all types, good guns in good condition, men trained to bravery and accuracy. America has not the largest navy, but should always have the best, and it would be poor economy, as the chairman says, to stop now in the preparation that is most likely to assure peace.

Commissioner Hunter of the state highways department announced his appointments under the new law, yesterday. He has selected a very competent staff and the result will be greater activity in the construction of good roads. The additional engineers will enable more prompt investigation of applications for state aid and preparation of plans, so the benefits of the state appropriation should become widely apparent before the end of this year.

Controller Livingood of Berks county charges an astounding state of rottenness in the administration of the poor fund in that Democratic county. He declares there has been grafting to the extent of many thousands of dollars at the expense of taxpayers and paupers. The matter needs investigation and correction. It indicates the necessity of constant supervision of public business and accounts. Systems for securing this are far from perfect.

In as far as it is apologetic the apology of the Dispatch is accepted, though it is noted it cannot state the matter altogether fairly. As for the Leader, it dare not answer, but continues its baseless fabrications, accompanied by snarls of disappointment. The Leader's attitude is best understood by noting that it has proffered no contribution to the "great public improvement" from which it expected to profit, if we may except its thick and thin support of the administration.

Controller Ridgeley's new rule gives promise of securing good results. Its purpose is, first, to acquaint directors of national banks with conditions of which they should have knowledge; and, second, to compel them to discharge their duties to their institutions. It ought to be accepted as an incontrovertible principle that when a bank examiner finds cause for complaint all directors of the institution should know about it, in order that they may determine the basis on which it rests.

Berlin is not pleased with Premier Rouvier's statement in extenso of the French attitude toward the Moroccan question. It falls below advance specifications. As a result Chancellor Von Buelow has inquired if the German army and navy are ready for war; France has increased its activity in strengthening border fortifications, and the stock exchanges of London, Berlin and Paris have had a sinking spell. At this distance Morocco does not appear to be worth a war among powers of the first class, and war will not result unless France and Great Britain are convinced an agreement in this case will be followed by more offensive assertion of the kaiser's desire to claim pre-eminence.

Attorney General Mayer of New York is preparing to enter suits to compel restitution to the Equitable society of funds gathered by Alexander, Hyde and others from operations denounced by the insurance commissioner as improper. District Attorney Jerome is moving along similar lines. There is a prospect of judicial investigation of Equitable affairs that may go deeper and hurt more than the investigations that have gone before. The society, however, will not suffer by these proceedings.

For Greater Pittsburgh.

In connection with the announcement of the intention of the chamber of commerce to proceed for the Greater Pittsburgh under the Goehring law, the opposition has intimated it will attack that law "on the same grounds" that it attacked the Cook act. This threat is mystifying. The Goehring law provides that "any city, borough, township, or part of a township" may be annexed to a city under certain conditions. There is surely no suggestion here of "local and special" legislation. The terms of the bill are as broad as the state itself. It may be attacked for some reason, but certainly not on the "same grounds" as the successful attack on the Cook bill.

No one will be frightened by the threat to test the Goehring law in the courts. On the contrary, every effort will and should be made to have the question settled before the meeting of the legislature in 1907. The chamber of commerce will meet immediately and take the matter up. It has led the way on the Greater Pittsburgh subject throughout, and may be expected to exert its utmost energies at this juncture. The Goehring law will give Allegheny precisely what Allegheny has asked—a separate vote on annexation—and it cannot be put to the touch too soon.

No arguments worthy of attention are advanced against the Greater Pittsburgh. In fact, no reasons are offered except the sentiment attaching to a name and the charge that Pittsburgh is not well governed. The sentiment attaching to the dear old name of Allegheny is forgotten by almost every Alleghenian when he registers away from home, and the government of Allegheny is not of a sort that any citizen might be proud of. Some of the worst features of government on both sides of the Allegheny river bear some relation to the separation of municipalities. The arguments on the other side have substance and significance.

Mr. Frick and the Hump.

Yesterday's conference between Director Bigelow and Mr. Frick was productive of no material change in the situation. The statement authorized by Mr. Frick is conclusive on that point. Mr. Bigelow was not communicative beyond saying he will meet Mr. Frick again today, and that he has engineers at work to determine the effect of cuts of six, eight and ten feet. This may be construed to mean the director has hopes he may convince Mr. Frick that a cut of ten feet would be better than a mere six—a possibility that might be encouraged by Mr. Frick's decision in favor of "six feet or thereabouts."

This matter is naturally attracting much public attention. The cutting of the hump has become one of the familiar traditions of the city, so long has it been contemplated. The general public has been taught to believe it would be cut sometime, but it has probably never seriously considered the precise depth to which it should be cut. It even may be assumed it is to a degree indifferent to that aspect of the matter, leaving it to those most immediately concerned. The only indication of its attitude toward disposition of the cost of the improvement is that afforded by the vote of last year, which has not been regarded as final.

The Chinese Boycott.

Yesterday's cabinet meeting gave especial attention to the Chinese boycott, and it was decided to relax the immigration regulations. It is not meant to open the way for admission of Chinese laborers, but to so alter the methods of inspection as to avoid insult to the classes not excluded under the law. The Chinese do not demand or expect abrogation of the law to admit others than those now legally permitted to enter.

The curious phase of this matter is that some one did not think to insist on courteous performance of unpleasant duties before the long-suffering Chinaman was moved to inaugurate his peculiar but forcible protest. Complaints of Americans, returning from foreign lands, have echoed from every port of entry. These have charged discourtesy to be the rule of customs offices and immigration agents. The investigation should have been started by these. Had it been there would be no occasion now to apologize to Chinese merchants to save a growing trade in cotton fabrics. It is better late than never. Particularly in a case where the thing needed is that common courtesy of treatment that should prevail among civilized peoples, which costs nothing but goes so far to smooth the rough pathway of human existence.

End of the Speed War.

While the New York Central has decided to abandon the 18-hour schedule for that of 20 hours, the Pennsylvania intends to continue the present speed. This is the end of what has been termed the "speed war." It will be interesting to note what the Baltimore & Ohio and the Erie will do in the new aspect of affairs.

Further investigation does not alter the conclusion that speed had nothing to do with causing the Mentor wreck. It may have added to the extent of the disaster. A narrow escape was made from a similar wreck at Laporte, Ind., yesterday morning which emphasizes the superior merits of "trailing point" switches, used on the Pennsylvania for sidings, as compared with the "facing point" switches of the Lake Shore, though this has no bearing on the dangers incident to speed.

Distinctive speed dangers are the increased stress on rails, particularly at curves; strain upon driving mechanism of locomotives, and the finding of weakness in wheels—for example, flaws in the rolling trucks, or loose flanges on the drivers. As between an 18-hour schedule and a 20-hour schedule for 961 miles the difference in these matters is not great. There has been some question about the lights at Mentor. None but persons who have peered through the locomotive cab window going faster than 60 miles an hour can fully appreciate the manner in which the lights dance along the track, or the extent to which the engineer on any fast train must trust to the care of others for his safety.

The Business Situation.

Last week the stock market relapsed into a state of dullness that had not been witnessed in years. This week there was a revival of activity and a near approach to the million-share-a-day rate. At the same time prices advanced sharply. There were no actual changes in commercial or financial conditions to account for this radical change in stock market sentiment. The latter, however, had a direct bearing upon the former, and it may be truthfully said there is a more cheerful feeling throughout business circles than existed a week or two ago. The explanation for the revival of activity in Wall street is the passing away of apprehension regarding the effects of the Equitable Life disclosures, the confidence entertained of peace between Russia and Japan, and the hope that peace negotiations will be followed by a revival of trade activity. In addition to this the government bulletin for the week reported favorable progress for the growing crops, and that the returns from the winter wheat harvest fields indicated a larger yield than previous estimates.

So long as uncertainty existed concerning any or all of these factors, there was a disposition on the part of investors and speculators to await developments. On the part of foreign bankers there was a disposition to husband resources against the possibility of selling their credits at a higher price in case of a prolongation of the war. On the part of domestic bankers there was a disposition to hold reserves in readiness to strengthen any point subject to attack which might come from a shock to public confidence or from the animosities of rival financiers. The necessity for thus withholding funds from new enterprises seems to have passed away, and despite the fact that the surplus reserves of the associated banks of New York are far below the average for this season, absolute ease has prevailed in the money market. Next week will begin the disbursement of large sums for semi-annual interest and dividends. A certain proportion of these disbursements will be available for reinvestment in the stock market. In anticipation of this demand, experienced stock market operators have been laying in a supply of securities which they hope to sell at a profit. They would not undertake such operations if the immediate outlook was not favorable. The expression of their confidence in the future has strengthened the confidence of the average business man, and therefore general sentiment is more cheerful.

In the iron market there has been very little change in raw materials, but finished products are firm and new orders are reported for structural material. Late comers are experiencing some difficulty in obtaining prompt deliveries, and the business booked ahead is sufficient to keep mills busy for months to come. A better tone is also reported in the textile trade. Wool prices are firm, and the demand for cotton goods is increasing. Labor is also well employed, particularly in the building trades.

The commercial and industrial outlook, however, is not absolutely clear. The latter part of the current week weather conditions in the spring wheat belt have been unfavorable, and it will be three months yet before the corn crop is out of danger. There are grave problems growing out of the Russo-Japanese war to be solved. For both the belligerents the consequences mean an increased burden of taxation, which in turn involves greater frugality in living. Forced economy on the part of nations usually takes the form of larger exports, smaller imports and lower commodity values. The average of commodity values in the United States is high, and extravagance marks our national, municipal and individual scale of living. There is an undercurrent of feeling that there must be a readjustment to a new basis of cost, and that this readjustment may be forced upon us by the consequences of the war. This feeling is no doubt partly responsible for the recent hand-to-mouth policy pursued in mercantile circles.

Thomas W. Lawson is going out to Kansas on a speaking tour. Kansas now has a luminous opportunity to find out "what ails her."

Allegheny should profit by the too common experience of prospective brides and refuse to listen to intermeddling friends.

France's reply to Germany has given the European speculators that tired feeling.

Greater Pittsburgh is marching forward with renewed determination.

And the lesser Pittsburgh Times throws a fit of glee over it.

Mr. Frick after hearing all about it stands pat.

June is the month of flowers, they say,
Of brides and of graduates, too;
This year she has grown aquatic, you see,
And paddles her own canoe.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

And still the question is, What are you going to do about it?

Are you trying to find out? Have you a clearly defined idea as to what can be done to save boys and girls from growing up to be fast, immoral or worthless men and women?

Have you, indeed, given the matter serious consideration? It would hardly be worth while to ask if you made an effort to humanize or civilize, much less Christianize the bad boys back in the alley.

We can't expect men and women to live better than they are taught, or shown how to live. Have you taken the trouble to show your uncultured neighbors how to live, and helped them to make a start in right living, and still continue to coach them?

How, then, can you expect them to do better than they are doing?

Or, do you do what you can to chase the families of bad boys and girls out of your neighborhood, and when you have succeeded, thank God that they are gone—gone to another neighborhood, where they may do even more harm than they would have done where they were?

Our aim and effort seem to be to get rid of such annoyances by chasing them out of our sight, instead of correcting them so they will no longer annoy us or anybody else.

We are inclined to persecute evildoers, even though their evil is done through ignorance, rather than to take them in hand and instruct them in the way of right doing.

The church, as such, is not altogether at fault, but it is not doing what it might do towards the betterment of society. It stands off and rings bells inviting the people to come to the feast and because they don't come they are told to go their own way.

You know, if you are a parent, or a teacher, that to permit a boy to go swimming when you have bid him to go to school is just the same as having told him to go swimming, only worse, in that you have winked at his sin of disobedience, thereby encouraging him to disobey whenever it isn't his pleasure to obey.

The church rings its bells, tunes its organs and fine choirs, and offers good entertainment for those who can appreciate it, and these are they with whom the world has no quarrel.

But as for those who have not been educated up to the point of being able to appreciate these things, they are turned out to feed upon husks and scraps thrown through back doors.

And yet these are the very people whom the church was commissioned to seek and to save.

Well, how are you to reach them?

How would you or how do you reach such as have votes when you need their assistance in securing an office for yourself or for a friend?

You very well know how to reach the poorest and the lowest man in your voting district on these occasions.

Haven't you as much interest in the cause of Christ, which is the cause of the people, as you have in a ward or city election?

What think you of the man who won't do as much to save the life and the soul of a fellow-man as he will to secure the election of himself or a friend to a paltry ward or city office?

* * *

Mr. Quiet Observer:—A preacher sets up a wail in today's issue of your paper against the raps you administered to merely praying Christians and asks the pert question: "What are you going to do about it?"

The answer to it is very simple: "To prove your faith we will stop your salary." He says that it takes a good deal to keep up a church and that if there are no rich men in the congregation it is the poor people that have to bear the brunt of the expenses.

Dear Mr. Preacher, follow closely in the footsteps of the Master and your difficulty will vanish like the clouds before the wind. Christ never asked for support, nor did he ever complain about the size of the collection. Ministers and preachers of the gospel of the present day are financiers and not the teachers of religion.

It costs nothing to preach the truth. If the mind and the man are willing the air is free to everybody to carry the sound waves to the ears of the world. Christ did not have fashionable choirs nor expensive organs to make a holy show to attract the people to himself. Because he taught the eternal truths of righteousness and gave instead of always wanting to receive, multitudes always followed on his heels.

I suppose that if this preacher who complains about the poverty of his congregation were to be denied his summer vacation he would consider himself a much-abused man and yet the only vacation that Christ is known to have taken was the 40 days in the desert. The trouble with preachers is that the people treat them too well. What other class of men get so much for so little work? The way things have been coming their way they are justified in placing all their confidence in prayer, for there is not one in 1,000 that gives his congregation value received.

About the only practical Christians of the present day are the Salvation Army. Although I do not approve of their external forms, their internal religion is very much O. K. They do not ask whether a man is honest or just; it is just the contrary with them. It is enough for them that the man is in need. If they can help him they will do so. They pick the drunken man out of the gutter, whom your high-salaried preacher would pass with a turned-up nose for fear of soiling his broadcloth prince albert, and minister to his wants, trying to convert him with kind actions and not with high sounding phrases.

I know of a preacher who did not scruple to place a burden of $63,000 on a congregation of laboring men, almost half of which went to building a palatial residence for himself. Now if any of his members come to him for the ministrations of religion they have to show their pass book to prove that all their dues are paid up, and that their credit is good.

How can such a man hope to instill contentment into the hearts of his poor people if he himself lives in luxury?

Dear Mr. Preacher, don't worry about the money; preach to your people the doctrines of Christ, and follow his example, and you will find that there will be no occasion to blame you for failure. Look up the New Testament and see how does the time that Christ spent in praying compare with the time spent in doing.

ICONOCLAST.

The world does not need iconoclasts, or at least not those who go about armed with hammers and dynamite cartridges to break things which they do not like.

There are no idols to break, or at least very few, but there is much darkness to be dispelled, much ignorance to be driven out with knowledge, much selfishness to be gotten rid of by doing unto others as you would have others do unto you.

If every church member will undertake to make a friend of one worldly, careless fellow each year, and lead him into the church guild, young men's club or other social feature of the church, the church membership will double in numbers each year, and doubly double in efficiency.

Preachers are just about what the churches would have them, else they wouldn't have them.

The church that knows its business, sees what its particular field demands and earnestly desires to do its work well, will seek and find a leader who is capable of directing this work. Such a preacher is simply the chief executive officer of the church, and not merely a pulpit ornament, a spieler or a sort of high social functionary with a dash of holy unction.

If you want a man to cast his lot with your party you cultivate his acquaintance and make him your friend.

That is what you have to do when you want a man to cast his lot with your church.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 23.—Miss Margaret Astor Chanler, a granddaughter of the Vanderbilts, is to run a dairy. Her fine summer estate at Barrytown on the Hudson is to be changed into a creamery, and the tables of the ultra-fashionable will hardly be complete from now on unless the cream and butter come from "Rokeby." To people who know of the good works of Miss Chanler it is a surprise that this new venture has not the essence of charity in it, as she usually adds that feature to all her good works, but in this instance she expects to make a profit from her farm by furnishing a little purer cream and butter than can be had from others.

Miss Chanler has been watching with great interest the crusade of the health department of the city against the dairymen who have not only been careless about the appointments of their barns, but have been inclined to allow their milk cans to set out in the rain, much to their profit though hardly adding "body" to the milk. She recently decided there would be a good profit in the dairy business, even if run honestly. Her dairy will be modeled on strictly hygienic and scientific lines. It will be in a way an experiment and the housing of cattle, their care, the construction of the dairy and everything pertaining thereto will be carried out strictly in accord with the latest ideas developed by the board of health. Miss Chanler has long been prominent in charities and reforms, chief among which as president of the Women's Municipal league, which leads the crusade against the evil employment agencies. During the war with Spain Miss Chanler, under the name of Sister Margaret, served as a war nurse with the Red Cross and founded a hospital for soldiers at Ponce, P. R.

Not Demanded by the Public.

Whatever the reason for the setting back of the Twentieth Century Limited to its old schedule of 20 hours from New York to Chicago, certainly it was not from a great public demand as might be supposed. Notwithstanding the wreck at Mentor, the fast trains over the New York Central and Pennsylvania have been as well filled as before. Perhaps it is the fear of damage suits that may follow the wreck that has caused the Central to go back to the 20-hour limit. The train today pulled in an hour late and perhaps tomorrow it will slow down to the old rate of speed. That is the present plan of the officials of the road, at least.

Was Once a Boy Himself.

Magistrate McAvoy is willing to admit he was once a boy. Today, when Henry Driscoll was arraigned before him charged with attacking Frederick Sayward's cherry tree, the court discharged him with a reprimand, later remarking as the lad left the court room, "I've been there myself; I know how it is." Henry was captured by Policeman Brown, who followed him up into the tree until a limb broke and caused them to fall, the policeman on top of the boy. That ought to be punishment enough for almost any boyish prank.

Great Day for the Youngsters.

There will be "great doings" at St. Mark's park tomorrow. Eugene J. McGuire is to give his annual "June walk," and the preparations for the event are enough to make most folks wish they could be children again. The menu includes 1,000 gallons of ice cream, 1,200 gallons of lemonade, 20,000 sandwiches and other things in proportion. The day opens with a parade in which all the children in McGuire's district will join, which is to wind up at the park, where there will be everything that is inclined to make children happy. The Miami club will also hold its June walk tomorrow in Central park, and just as elaborate preparations have been made to entertain the 20,000 youngsters on its visiting list.

A Dream to Some Purpose.

When George Bley, a Lenox avenue druggist, dreams, it is to some purpose. Early this morning his dream angel told him there were burglars in his store. He promptly played the tip across the board, and going to his store found a man hiding in a closet. After a chase of half a mile, he finally succeeded in catching the intruder and handed him over to the police. A letter found in the man's pocket showed he was a former inmate of the Elmira reformatory, where he had made such a good impression that one of the officials had sent him $30 and made an engagement to go fishing with him this summer. The fishing trip is now likely to be postponed.

Summer Bumps Hotel Men.

It is a prosperous hotel man who can get through the summer in New York without financial trouble. Yesterday two hotel companies, the Vendome and the St. Paul, went into the hands of receivers. Both of them have been considered well established with a good paying clientele. Neither is likely to be closed, however. There are a large number of smaller and less well known houses in the hands of receivers and it would not be surprising if a half dozen others got into similar difficulty before the season is over. High rents, necessitating high prices which drive away business, cause most of the hotel troubles in New York.

Evasion of the Jury Law.

The Staten Island Firemen's association is having a great boom these days, having recently added more than 1,000 names to its membership rolls. The association expects to go out of existence within a short time, but the fact that the law exempts veteran firemen from jury duty as well as giving them first call for places under the city government, makes membership in the association worth while. The death of the association will not kill the privileges it carries with it, and the fact that it is soon to be disbanded makes it all the more advantageous to become a member at this time.

A New Use for Stumps.

A new industry in the region at the head of the lakes is the gathering of the tree stumps for use in the Maine shipyards. A large number of wooden ships are built every year, and it has been found that the most efficient corner braces are those made from these stumps, and hundreds are shipped east every day. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES.

Second Oldest Town in Ohio.

On the register of the Hotel Boyer last evening appeared the name of the town Gnaddenhutten. To possibly 999 out of every 1,000 persons throughout the country the name is unknown, and to the one person out of that number it is probable that little is known of the quaint little village aside from the fact that it is situated in Ohio and on the main line of the Panhandle between Pittsburgh and Columbus. Along with the name of the town was the name of the man who wrote it, E. C. Helwig, one of the best known residents of the village for several decades past.

"Gnaddenhutten is a rather quaint old village in many ways, but it possibly has as much right to be such as any town in the country. Long before there was a busy Pittsburgh the site of Gnaddenhutten was a mission point. In the midst of the town today there stands a monument to the Indians massacred there in 1782; so one can see that it has something of an early history. It is the second oldest town in Ohio, Marietta being the oldest. There is another phase to its pioneer importance in history in its having been the birthplace of the first white child born in what is now the state of Ohio. Some time about 1750 or soon after that year John Heckewelder came across the Allegheny mountains and through what is now Pittsburgh in a wagon of some ancient kind, accompanied by his family. A daughter was born and she was the first white child born in Ohio. She never married and the only descendant of the family living in the old town today is her grandnephew, the Rev. Henry Rice, pastor of the Moravian church.

"It is mainly a residential place, there being little business transacted. And there is little prospect of its growing into a city because of the fact that almost every young man upon reaching his majority leaves for more active fields of endeavor. Yet there is no danger of the town being annihilated, for some of these young men soon get married and return to the quiet village to live, while being identified with business interests elsewhere."

Crop Prospects Bright.

Mr. Helwig, while living in Gnaddenhutten, has his main business interest in Steubenville, where he is known as the "potato man." He is a produce dealer, handling potatoes, apples and onions almost exclusively in Steubenville and other Eastern Ohio towns. He is in Pittsburgh to purchase potatoes. He says the early crops of onions and potatoes are abundant, while the apple crop is only fair. So far as the later or winter crops are concerned, he would venture no opinion, saying simply that the present looks fair enough. "One cannot tell what drouth or wet weather may bring in the crop conditions this summer, but a month from now one will be able to say pretty definitely what the winter crops will be," said he.

Honors for Mr. Wilson.

Something of the high regard in which Henry M. Wilson, who died suddenly in the Duquesne club Wednesday, is held by his many associates and friends in Pittsburgh, is shown in the fact that about 100 of the leading manufacturers and business men of the city will go to Franklin, Mr. Wilson's home, this morning to attend the funeral. Two parlor cars have been provided for some of these people on the 9 o'clock train of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad. Mr. Wilson was president of the National Supply Company and was widely known in manufacturing circles.

Knights of Columbus Home.

About 30 members of the Knights of Columbus came home to Pittsburgh last evening from a double trip across the continent. They left here about a month ago as delegates and members of the order to attend the annual convention at Los Angeles, occupying a special Pullman car and going by way of the Wabash, over which road they also returned. They reported a good convention and a very enjoyable ride to and from the convention. During the western trip they took in several side trips to points of particular interest.

Others may see thee; I behold thee not;
Yet most I think thee, beauteous blossom, mine;
For I, who walk in shade, like Proserpine—
Things once too briefly looked on, long forgot—
Seem by some tender miracle divine,
When breathing, thee, apart,
To hold the rapturous summer warm within my heart.

We understand each other, thou and I!
Thy velvet petals laid against my cheek,
Thou feelest all the voiceless things I speak,
And to my yearning makest mute reply:
Yet a more special good of thee I seek,
For God who made—oh, kind!—
Beauty for one and all, gave fragrance for the blind!

DUBOIS CITIZEN SAVES LAWYERS

Prevents Possible Disbarment of Attorneys by Hurried Trip to New York.

GETS THEIR CASE DELAYED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 23.

Hailing from Dubois, Pa., and without a sponsor to identify him as an attorney, William C. Arnold appeared before Judges Townsend, Coxe and Holt in the United States circuit court of appeals in this city today and by a clever argument saved his clients, two Philadelphia lawyers, from disbarment or possible commitment for contempt of court. He did not get them free of charges, but he did have the case delayed indefinitely.

George W. Watt and James M. Dohan, counsel for John E. DuBois in a suit against New York city, sent a pamphlet to the judges on May 24 which, it is alleged, attacked their personal character and judicial integrity. It is said to be a reiteration of charges which they made against Judge Lacombe before the judiciary committee of the house of representatives in January last, when they tried unsuccessfully to have impeachment proceedings brought against him. They contended they had not had a square deal before him or before Judges Townsend, Coxe and Holt, who had affirmed his decision.

Watt and Dohan were served on June 15 with an order to appear today and show cause why they should not be excluded from practice before the United States circuit court and why such an order or further action should not be taken as may be proper.

When their names were called they did not answer, but a tall, slender man, with gray chin whiskers, stepped forward. He had just arrived from Pennsylvania, he said, and while he knew Mayor McClellan and Representative Sulzer, having been in congress with them, yet he had no one to introduce him to the court. He added that he was W. C. Arnold, general counsel for John E. Dubois, and that he had come to New York to see that the interests of Mr. Dubois in his suit against the city were not jeopardized if Watt & Dohan, who also represented Mr. Dubois, were disbarred.

"Do you appear for them?" asked Judge Townsend.

"Well, in a quasi manner," replied Mr. Arnold. "But I know nothing of the charges, and I am not here to defend them if they have done anything wrong."

No copy of the pamphlet was in record for the country lawyer's enlightenment, and after a brief argument on his part the judges conferred and then said there would be no decision. Thereupon Mr. Arnold headed again for Dubois, Pa.

SHOWS COLLUSION WITH STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Witness Reveals Close Relation Between Trust and Supposedly Independent Concerns in Missouri.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—The testimony at today's session of the hearing before Special Commissioner Anthony of the suit instituted in the state supreme court by Attorney General Hadley of Missouri, to revoke the charters of the Standard Oil Company, the Waters-Pierce Oil Company and the Republic Oil Company, tended to show the close relations existing betwen the Standard and the Waters-Pierce companies.

George N. Hendricks testified that from 1880 to 1904 he was an employe of the Waters-Pierce Company. He stated the traveling auditor of the Standard Oil Company previous to 1900 audited the books of the Waters-Pierce Company in St. Louis, and that since that time the books were audited by a man named Backus, whom the witness declared he knew was employed by the Standard company. That Missouri was divided into sections by the Standard and Waters-Pierce companies, and that when an order was received by the Waters-Pierce concern from a customer in the Standard's territory, it was sent to the nearest Standard Oil agency.

Mr. Hendricks further said it was customary for clerks employed by the Waters-Pierce Company to caution each other to be careful in their work, as the "Standard auditor was coming." When asked how the coming of the auditor was known Mr. Hendricks said a notification was sent to the St. Louis office from No. 26 Broadway, New York city, and that officers of the company would speak about the approaching visit of the auditor.

WAS A WEALTHY PRISONER.

Young Italian, Sent to Workhouse, Enjoys an Annual Income of $60,000. Victim of Opium.

When Jerome Morello, a young Italian, was sentenced on June 19 to 30 days in the workhouse in default of $100 fine by Magistrate Moke for smoking opium, the prisoner told the police judge he was a rich man connected with a well-known Italian family in New York. Magistrate Moke and the officers thought the prisoner's statement was a "pipe dream." Yesterday Martes Gurrino, his brother-in-law, came to this city and confirmed the statement of his relative. Morello has an income of $60,000 a year.

Morello's relatives in New York learned of his trouble and Gurrino came here to get him out of the workhouse. Gurrino paid his fine and went to Claremont with a release for his relative. Morello was taken home last night.

Gurrino said Morello is a son of Charles Morello, formerly a wealthy importer, who, when he died, left young Morello and his five sisters an annual income of $60,000 each. Young Morello, however, has been addicted to the opium habit and often wanders from home. When he was sent to the workhouse he had a fine head of raven black curls. Prison rules deprived him of these and when he departed for his home his head was clean shaven.

FIRST TAX INSTALMENT ENRICHES CITY TREASURY

The city treasury of McKeesport was swelled yesterday when for the first time since the mills have been in the city the United States Steel Corporation paid in taxes $42,844.09 several days before it was due. The amount of the corporation's taxes this year is almost $9,000 more than last year, which is largely due to the work done on the new $10,000,000 mills in the Bowery district. It is estimated that the receipts of the city treasurer's office for June will exceed those of the same month in any previous year, and are expected to reach $100,000.

GASKILL'S DIARY DISCLOSES HIS JEKYLL-HYDE CAREER

Sober, He Is an Honest Business Man; Drunk He Is a Criminal Raising Stock Certificates—His Crimes Strike Death Blow to Brother.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—Startling revelations of the dual life led by Benjamin H. Gaskill, the man whose skillful and gigantic forgeries aided in wrecking the City Trust Company, were made today, when it became known that the accused broker had given to his brother, E. George Gaskill, a short time before death, a diary in which he related the tragic story of his criminal career and told of his Jekyll-Hyde existence.

Strong drink alone created this remarkable transformation of character, according to the declaration of the dying broker. Sober, he was Gaskill, the reputable broker. A taste of liquor and, presto—he was Gaskill, the forger, raiser of stocks and schemer. Although the text of the diary is kept a secret, in it Gaskill is said to have asserted that never when in a normal condition, and free from drink, did he attempt a criminal act.

Gaskill raised his first certificate, so the diary relates, when he was under the influence of liquor. This occurred when he was just embarking into his business career, fresh from college. He needed $150,000 to invest in a "deal." He then raised his first certificate. The "deal" failed, and the young broker raised another certificate, it is said, to cover up the indebtedness incurred by the failure.

The first intimation of the existence of a written confession or memorandum of events in Gaskill's remarkable career, was given by a member of the Gaskill family. E. George Gaskill, the brother of the dead broker, in whose possession the diary is said to be, however, is himself lying at death's door in his home, 5212 Catherine street.

The disgrace brought upon the family by the acts of the dead broker, accentuated the condition of E. George Gaskill, who had been ill for weeks. With the public exposure of the illegal operations of his brother, E. George Gaskill's condition grew rapidly worse. Now all hope for his recovery has fled.

WAR RENEWED OVER TELEPHONE POLES

East End Woman Is Arrested While Resisting Employes of Bell Company.

Mrs. Mary Donohue yesterday had her second battle with the police and the employes of the Bell Telephone Company in her efforts to prevent the erection of poles in front of her property at Murtland avenue and Hermitage street. In her first meeting with her adversaries she won a victory by placing one of her five children in each hole which had been dug. Yesterday the pole-raisers came in two wagons and 18 men undertook the work.

It is alleged that the police attempted to restrain Mrs. Donohue while the workmen dug the holes. The woman was terribly bruised and finally was taken to the East End police station in a patrol wagon. She fainted on reaching the prison and it was with difficulty that she was revived.

Mrs. Agnes Crawford, who lives next door to the Donohue house, went to her neighbor's assistance. She attempted to telephone to Director Bigelow about the action of the police, but was dragged off to the patrol wagon and taken to the police station.

The two women were held on charges of disorderly conduct. While they were being carried into the station house, Patrick J. Donohue, who is a motorman on the Frankstown avenue car line, saw his fainting wife and ran to get a physician, meantime leaving his car standing upon the track. He went to the Homewood car barns, obtained a leave of absence and returned to his wife.

Mrs. Donohue alleges that Police Lieutenant James McAvoy bruised her hands and injured her by his rough treatment. It was two hours before she could be revived sufficiently to leave the station. Mrs. Donohue is in a delicate condition and her physician declares she will not be able to attend the hearing this morning. Charges of assault and battery may be made against Lieutenant McAvoy.

DEPLETE THE GREENHOUSE.

Joker Puts Up Sign Telling People to Help Themselves, Which They Promptly Did.

Fifty residents of Versailles borough, above McKeesport, are threatened with suits by John Orth of the McKeesport Floral Company. Most of the people are women, and their troubles were brought on by a practical joker. Orth recently purchased several greenhouses at Versailles, intending to remove the plants to the Seitz farm in Versailles township, the headquarters of the company. Yesterday the practical joker placed the following notice on the entrance gate to the greenhouses in Versailles borough: "Take everything about the place at your leisure, excepting the telephone."

In a short time every plant in the greenhouse had been taken. Orth places his loss at $500. He will send notices to the 50 addresses secured by him, requesting restoration of the flowers or their value in money.

Amalgamated Association Expected to Arrange Sheet and Tin Plate Wages.

The removal of the limit of production for the independents and the withdrawal of the demand for an increased wage rate for the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company are said to be the two points on which a peaceful arrangement will be made by the Amalgamated association with the sheet and tin plate manufacturers.

The independent conference adjourned yesterday to permit the settlement of the United States Steel schedule. The meeting to take up the schedule with the American company will be held Wednesday, and on Friday the independents will meet again.

INSANE QUARTET SINGS AT MARSHALSEA CONCERT

The Rev. J. W. Harper, pastor of the Bridgeville Methodist church, assisted by Mrs. Harper and 50 children of his Sunday school, entertained the inmates at Marshalsea last evening. Mr. Harper rendered a solo, the chorus being sung by his pupils. The children also gave a clever exhibition drill. A feature of the evening was a quartet of insane negroes, inmates of the institution. They sang "On the Bridge" and "My Old Kentucky Home." Supt. W. R. Williams served lunch at the close of the entertainment.

Feeds Son Morphine Pills.

John Kormak, aged 16, was found sleeping in a lumber yard on the South Side Thursday night and to the police told that he had escaped from his father's home because of cruelty. Joseph Kormak, the father, was arraigned in No. 7 police station yesterday and was fined $50 and costs after his son had testified against him. The boy said that he had been unable to obtain employment, and that his father fed him on dry bread and morphine pills. He also said the father had applied leeches to his neck to punish him for not getting work. The boy was turned over to the Humane society.

BABY LOSERS' BAND FOUND IN NEW YORK

No Less Than 500 Women Engaged in This Practice. Two Arrests Made.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Mrs. Marie Varice and Mrs. Antoinette Tonella today were held by Magistrate Wahle on the charge of having abandoned an infant near the Brooklyn bridge two weeks ago. The testimony developed the fact that various societies of the city have been for some time on the track of an organized band of "bady losers." Agents who have been working through the East Side said that there are no less than 500 women in that section who make it a business of getting rid of babies for $5 a head. The mother pays the money, hands over her child as if it were nothing more than an article of furniture and the members of the band see to it that the little thing "is lost," either temporarily or for all time.

On June 6 an infant dressed in clothes furnished by Bellevue hospital was found on the Brooklyn bridge. On one bit of cloth was the name "Varice." Mrs. Varice was a patient in Bellevue hospital in May, when she gave birth to a child. She was discharged from the institution on June 2. When arrested each woman accused the other of abandoning the infant.

Those who are investigating the case say that Mrs. Tonella was the agent for a midwife in Mott street. The "go-between," they think, probably received $1 for the delivery of the child.

SWIMMERS' WINGS COLLAPSE; MANION TO THE RESCUE

Policeman Patrick Manion, stationed at lock No. 1 as a life-guard, yesterday saved another boy from drowning. James Pasiole, aged 14, of No. 301 Miltenberger street, was swimming out in the stream. The boy had a pair of water wings under his arms. These slipped from his grasp and he sank. The officer rowed to him and pulled him out as he was going down a second time. This makes four lives Manion has saved since stationed at lock No. 1.

THE HISTORY OF CHAMPAGNE—No. 3.

A BENEDICTINE MONK named Dom Perignon, noticed that grapes from some soils imparted fragrance, others flavor, etc., to the famous Champagnes of Old France, and he hit upon the idea of blending the produce of several vintages.

All the delicate skill of Champagne's inventor, crowned by centuries of improvement, are known to the makers of the fragrant, clear and fine product of the oldest vineyards in New York State.

Great Western
Extra Dry

The age of these vineyards has made it possible to attain the chemical conditions of soil which have imparted to foreign Champagnes their peculiar quality.

This has not been accomplished in any other American vineyards, and is due to the long period of cultivation with scrupulous care.

Great Western is the finest American Champagne—the only one granted a gold medal at Paris.

Actually equal to foreign Champagnes at half the price. The duty, not the quality, makes the difference.

CASE TO BE TAKEN TO A HIGHER COURT

Attorney for Coal Company Excepts to Judge's Action in Suit Against Norfolk & Western.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 23.—A motion was made today before Judge Keller in federal court to amend the petition for an alternative writ of mandamus in the case of the Greenbrier Coal and Coke Company against the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company.

The plaintiff alleged discrimination in the distribution of coal cars and violation of the interstate commerce law and applied for a writ of mandamus, which was refused by Judge Keller in a decision handed down Wednesday last. The court today overruled the motion made to file the amended petition, to which ruling attorney for the plaintiff excepted and will take the case to the United States circuit court of appeals and make an effort to get it before that tribunal in a special term to be held for that purpose at Asheville, N. C.

The regular term at Richmond does not begin until late in the fall. The case is being watched with great interest by coal operators of this and other states.

APPEALS ARE ALLOWED IN LIQUOR LICENSE CASES

Suits in Somerset County Will Be Taken to the State Supreme Court.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SOMERSET, June 23.—William P. Ruppel and J. Calvin Lowry, attorneys for the Somerset Prohibition alliance, were notified this afternoon by Prothonotary George Pearson of the supreme court of appeals that appeals in the Somerset county license cases have been allowed. Judge Francis J. Kooser refused to grant liquor licenses to 15 applicants on the ground that their petitions were defective, as they did not contain the names of the bondsmen.

The cases were appealed to the superior court, which reversed Judge Kooser. Judge Kooser then permitted the bond to be amended in regard to the sureties and granted the licenses. The Prohibition alliance filed a motion with the supreme court, asking for allowance of an appeal from the superior court.

It will not be known here until tomorrow whether or not the appeal acts as a supersedeas case. If it does, the applicants will be compelled to keep their places closed until the supreme court convenes in October.

BUILDING AND LOAN BUSINESS INCREASING

Commissioner McAfee's Report Shows That More Than 10,000 Homes Were Provided Last Year.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, June 23.—There was a marked increase in the business of the building and loan associations in Pennsylvania last year, as compared with the previous year, according to the latest report of State Banking Commissioner McAfee.

The manuscript of the report for the year ending December 31 last was today submitted to Gov. Pennypacker, by whom it was promptly approved and sent to the state printer. The report will not be ready for general distribution before the middle of September.

The report shows that the number of homes built or purchased out of these associations last year was upward of 10,000 and that the associations' assets and liabilities amount to nearly $125,000,000.

DISCUSS THIEL COLLEGE.

Lutheran Synod Delegates Consider Situation—Charter Ordered Secured for Old People's Home.

LIGONIER, June 23.—(Special.)—The Thiel college trouble was discussed at length today by the Lutheran synod in convention here. During two years in which the institution has been in the courts no classes have been held. The report of the board of trustees was read by Attorney J. B. Duff, the secretary. The Rev. F. C. Oberly of Greenville moved that the board be requested to withdraw from the Mercer county court the petition for an amendment to the charter. For this a substitute was offered by the Rev. Dr. Yount of Greensburg, that the board continue the legal fight to the end. Both the substitute and the original motion were tabled after an extended debate.

The committee on the Old People's Home at Zelienople reported that donations for the proposed home to the amount of $12,000 had been received. A charter was ordered to be secured.

Millions in Filtration Contracts.

Pittsburghers are especially interested at this time in filtration plants. Philadelphia set out to build a filtration system which was to cost $12,000,000. The Quaker City already has paid out $20,000,000 for its plant and the work is not nearly finished. It will take at least $5,000,000 to complete the job.

How Philadelphia was robbed of millions of dollars on this big job is explained by Louis Seaber in this week's issue of Index, Pittsburgh's illustrated weekly. The Index is on sale Saturday at all news stands. Get a copy early before the issue is exhausted.

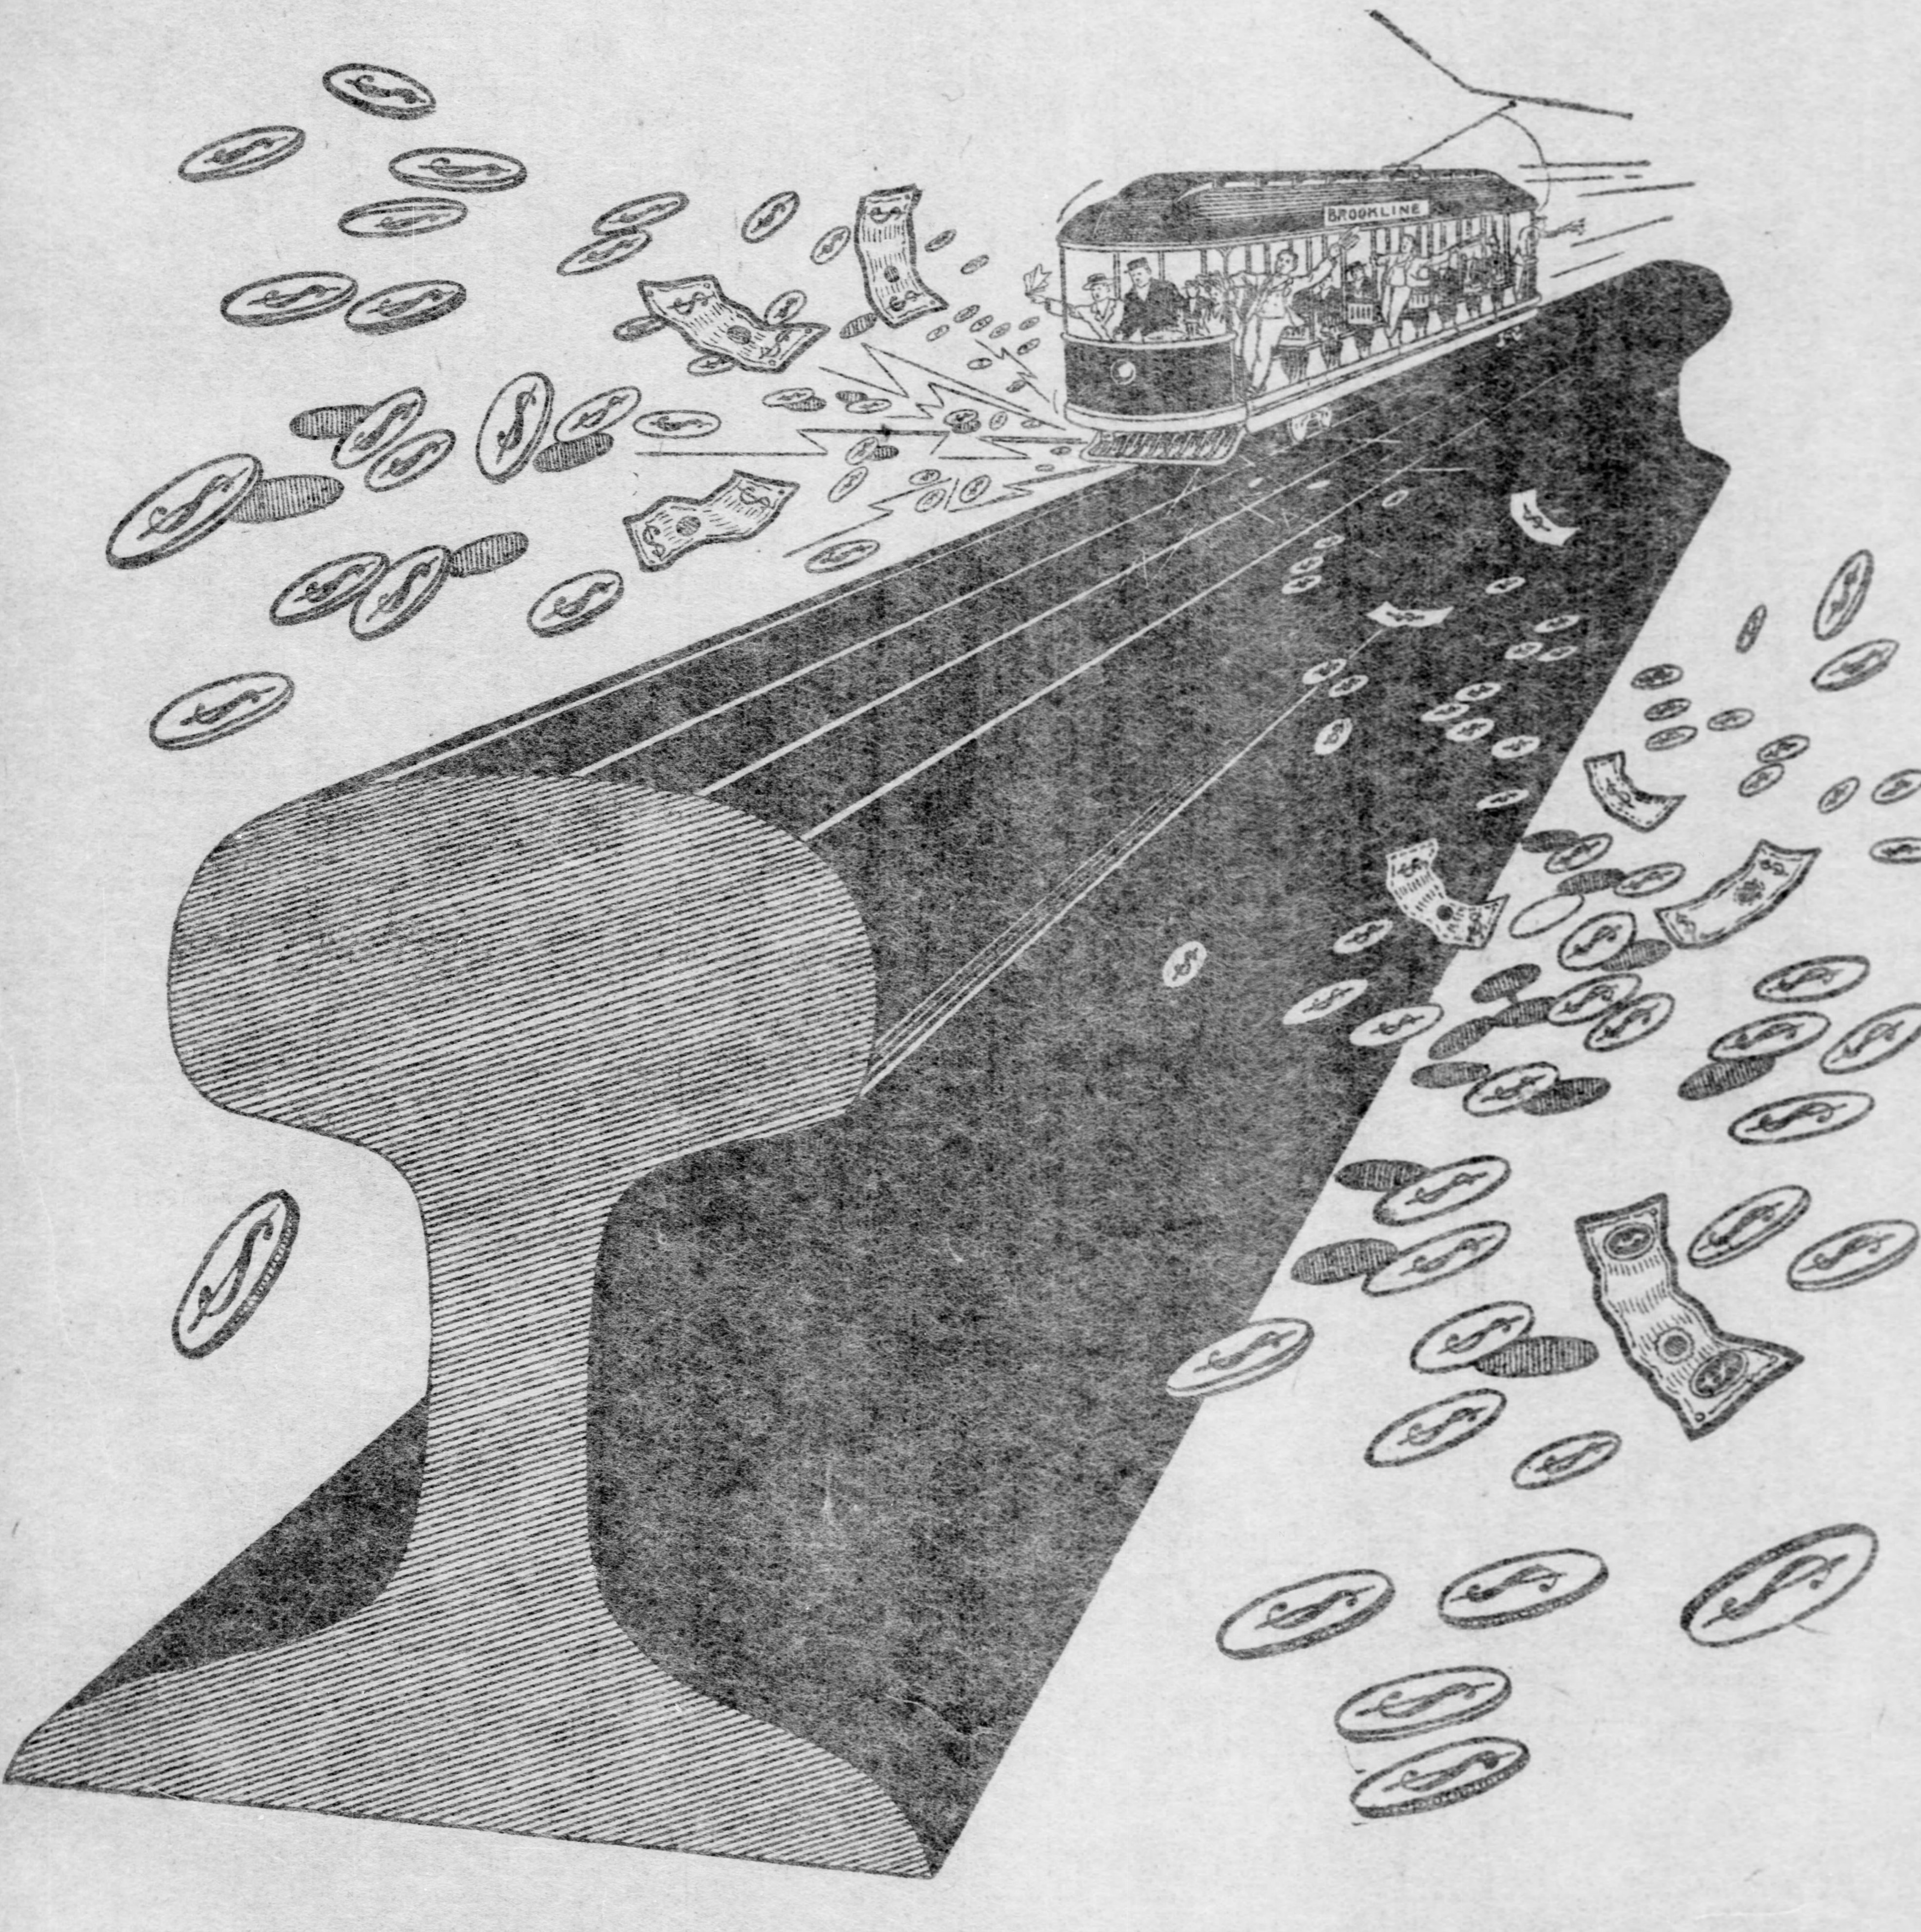
IN FRONT OF AND ALONG THE SIDES OF THAT GRAND NEW SPEED-RAIL DOUBLE-TRACKED TROLLEY TO

BROOKLINE = THE 15-MINUTE SUBURB

THERE IS MONEY! MONEY! MONEY!

Money brought there to erect a wonderful city. Money pushing to completion a giant work of improvements which will stand as the marvel real estate triumph of the twentieth century. Money that will grow like no parallel that can be cited.



But what is the motive of this unusual enthusiasm concerning money? Are we plucking from the golden rays of fancy some vivid flash with which to deceive the public? Or is all this talk true? Can investors have implicit confidence that Brookline is the ONLY WHITE CITY that will ever be built close enough to Pittsburgh to become a part of Pittsburgh? Is this advertising all facts?

Our answer is: Believe us just far enough to take the time to make an investigation. How could men talk as we do if they were not sincere? Who else in all the galaxy of real estate operators have had sufficient faith in an entirely new district to plant in it nearly a million and a half dollars, relying on the future and public opinion for their profit?

You want to think on this quite a bit. Then you must see the property with your own eyes. You must behold personally and individually the enormous wealth that's being put under the ground and on top of it. You cannot afford to delay taking one of the new BROOKLINE VIA WEST LIBERTY CARS to where all this construction is in progress. You will find these cars anywhere on Smithfield Street. They will speed you through the tunnel over the finest double-tracked short line traction road in the world.

If you cannot come during the day come at night! Come, look at this mighty real estate revolution under the glow of the electric lights! The electric lighting system of Brookline is one of the wonders of its great aggregation of city improvements. It is one of the arguments which will go to prove that we are building this modern suburb with the idea that nothing beneficial that other cities possess is too good for it.

Brookline's water mains throw much light on what we mean. It is the finest city-water system in all of Greater Pittsburgh. The splendid new white city, in fact, will never have to cry for a greater supply.

Brookline's sewerage system also is the finest piece of sanitary engineering that has yet been accomplished. No dangerous "back-ups" possible.

The macadamizing, paving, curbing and granolithic stone sidewalking of the streets reaches such elaborate and substantial magnitude that people who have been used to visiting lot plans cannot believe that we are converting this property into such metropolitan conveniences until they set foot on it and know that the improvements are there and being put there identically as promised.

THE SCOPE OF SUCH A CITY-BUILDING PROJECT MUST BE SEEN TO BE APPRECIATED.

When you see it and learn our prices you will understand that the earlier you act the more money you will make. Anybody will say that $100, $150, $200, $250, $300, $350, $400, $500, $600 and $700 for such property as this is something positively unheard-of. It's the first time real estate has been offered on the mercantile basis of small-margin figures.

But Brookline lots won't continue at these prices. No company putting in such improvements as Brookline will have, with 80-foot boulevard and traction cars within a few steps of every lot, could keep on selling double-size 40x120 feet building sites at prices that are astonishing when you stop to realize what goes with them.

The terms are 5 per cent down and 2½ per cent monthly. No taxes nor interest for you to pay for two years.

Each lot is sold with building restrictions.

NATIONAL GAMES TODAY.

Elmer Stricklett, who claims to be the discoverer of the now famous spit ball, was the pitcher Manager Hanlon selected to face the Pirates in the getaway game of the series over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon, and owing to the threatening weather the attendance was cut down to 1,230. The elusive delivery failed to fool Clarke's men, who got away with the game 5 to 1.

The contest was the shortest of the local season, having been played in 1 hour and 25 minutes. This was largely due to the hustling efforts of Umpire Klem, who urged the players ahead all during the game, which was free from wrangling or delaying tactics. The players hustled to and from the field, and the only display out of the ordinary was when Catcher Bergen of the visitors got too gay on the coaching lines and after being ordered to the bench gave the umpire a line of back talk for which he was banished from the playing field.

Stricklett, the spit-ball pitcher, is a short, chunky fellow, with a lot of speed and some good curves to alternate with the famous pitch. The Pirates did not succeed in getting a lot of hits off his delivery, but those they did get came in bunches, and this, with good, heady base-running, brought in enough runs to win the game. An instance of the base-running was shown in the first inning, when Tommy Leach scored from second on an out at first base. In this Leach used fine judgment, as he knew Gessler, who is covering first for the Brooklyn team, is a left-hander, and in order to make the throw had to turn completely around, which is something of a handicap.

Patsy Flaherty was the Pirate pitching selection, and the little left-hander was at his best. In but two innings did the visitors manage to bunch hits, and fine fielding kept them from getting but one run. The fielding on both sides was sharp and snappy, and although the playing field was a bit slippery, not a misplay was made on either side. Both infields were kept hustling all afternoon, and some very pretty plays were turned up. Flaherty helped along by fielding his position in fine style, as is shown by his record in the appended score.

The Pirates got away well, scoring two runs in the opening inning. After Clarke had gone out, Beaumont planted a single in left, and was advanced by a single by Leach. Wagner followed with a single, on which Beaumont scored, but Leach was held at second. On Howard's out from second to first Leach scored the second run by clever base-running. Another run was scored in the second when Peitz singled after Ritchey had struck out. Flaherty beat out an infield bounder, placing Peitz on second. On Clarke's bounder Flaherty was thrown out at second, but Peitz reached third on the play, and with Clarke the double steal was successfully worked, Peitz scoring.

The visitors got away with a run in their half of the third, when, with one out, Dobbs doubled to left and scored on a single by Hall. The Pirates got that one back and another with it in the fifth. Clarke led off with a single and Beaumont followed with an infield drive. Stricklett got the ball and attempted to head off Clarke at second, but was too late, both runners being safe. The pair were advanced a base on a sacrifice by Leach and both runs were brought home by Howard, who drove the ball to left for a three-base hit. The visitors looked a bit dangerous in the eighth, when two hits were made, but fast fielding kept them from scoring. The score:

Eastern Clubs Badly Beaten in Series Just Closed—Giants and Quakers Had Even Break.

In the series of games between the eastern and western teams of the National league which closed with the game in this city yesterday, the west had much the best of it, winning 38 and losing 20 games. The New York and Philadelphia clubs split even on the trip, winning and losing eight games each. The poorest showing was made by Brooklyn, winning only two out of its 14 games. GAMES PLAYED ON THE INDEPENDENT CIRCUIT

Thounhurst was on the rubber for the Pittsburgh Collegians yesterday at McKeesport and up to the eighth inning he had his game won, 4 to 2, allowing but two hits. In the eighth round the Collegians went to the bad in the infield and McKeesport scored four runs on four hits, a two-bagger by Soffel being the only healthy one.

Harry Pfeifer, the big catcher, had his finger split in the sixth inning and was forced to retire, causing a change in the line-up. Price went behind the bat and "Toots" Shultz covered short, Herrington going to left. Had Pfeifer not met with with his mishap it is probable the verdict would have been in Thounhurst's favor. Pfeifer was the first man up in the fourth inning and he drove the ball away over the left field fence for a home run. Don Doyle made a good throw from right filed in the eighth, nailing Capt. Soffel at the home plate.

The game was witnessed by a fair sized crowd, threatening weather keeping down the attendance. The crowd was excited when the home team was making another strong rally in the eighth. The score:

Punxsutawney just managed to get one run in the last inning of the contest played with Braddock at the latter place yesterday and was beaten 4 to 1. Pollard of McKeesport, a brother of Benny Pollard, the former well-known pitcher, was tried by Braddock yesterday and he proved that he has the necessary speed and curves to keep him in fast company. Hobson pitched a nice contest for the visiting team. Braddock plays the All-Collegians today at Braddock and Cushman will pitch for Braddock. Shultz or Don Doyle will pitch for the Collegians. MITCHELL'S LAW PARTNER IS DAMAGING WITNESS

Tells of Alleged Offenses Committed Against Federal Laws by the Senator and Himself.

PORTLAND, ORE., June 23.—In the trial of United States Senator John H. Mitchell, charged with practicing before federal departments while a senator, the prosecution's chief witness, former Judge A. H. Tanner, Mitchell's law partner, today told of alleged offenses against the federal statutes committed by Senator Mitchell.

Judge Tanner told of agreements made by himself with Kribs and John A. Benson to expedite timber claims through the general land office in Washington, the application of the fees received therefor to the earnings of the firm and the division of the fees at the end of each month, Mitchell receiving half of the net income. The nature of the evidence given today was the same as previously submitted by the prosecution and showed similar transactions to those already testified to by former Judge Tanner.

In introducing evidence showing similar offenses to those charged in the Kribs indictment the prosecution was besieged with objections from the defense, but Judge De Haven allowed the testimony to be given on the ground that one offense might be charged to carelessness, but other offenses of a similar nature go to prove that the acts were premeditated.

"CON" DALY REMOVED FROM THE YALE BOAT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 23.—Cornelius E. Daly, the Yale varsity oarsman who was charged with "cribbing" in an examination on psychology, was taken out of the boat today and Ortmeyer of the varsity four given his place. The announcement of Daly's removal was made by Julian W. Curtiss, graduate coach, who said the action was taken in accordance with a decision of the faculty.

Yale's two varsity crews were tonight reorganized because of the removal of Daly. Andrew Ortmeyer, who gets Daly's place, is a Chicago boy. Ortmeyer has rowed No. 2 most of the time since the oarsmen went to Gales Ferry, because Daly was laid up with boils. He was a member of the freshman eight last year, played substitute and rush on the football eleven last fall, and was guard on the basketball team during the winter.

The general impression is that the Yale varsity eight will not lose much by the change, for Ortmeyer is a fine oarsman and a game fighter, but his promotion from the four will break it up badly. In his place are being tried both of the varsity subs, George Low, son of ex-Mayor Seth Low of New York, and George Hoppin.

Low is the better oar, but he has always rowed on the other side of the boat. Hoppin is a sub No. 2. Coach Kennedy's selection will not be definitely made till tomorrow. The Yale crew was so badly upset by the news that it took no rowing at all this morning, and only a short paddle tonight.

READY FOR AUTO RACES.

Pittsburgh Club Prepares for a Big Meet. Many Entries in the Events.

A general meeting of the Automobile club was held last night at the club house to consider some final details of the national championship motor races to be held at Brunots Island race track next Wednesday and Thursday. The race committee reported that the great meeting would bring to Pittsburgh many of the fastest cars engaged this year in track racing.

Major C. J. S. Miller's 90-horse power Fiat which is to go today against Alfred G. Vanderbilt's car of the same make at the Empire City track will come here stripped for its greatest effort. Sartori will drive the latter, and the Frenchman, Louis Chevrolet, Major Miller's car. Oldfield and Chevrolet will also have it out today as a preliminary to their Pittsburgh meeting. These cars will come fresh from their contests today to the Brunots Island meeting.

A number of entries were received last night for some of the minor events in which stock cars will participate. A pennant of green and red, with A. C. P. in gold letters across it, was adopted. During the discussion W. C. Temple remarked that one pennant should come to Pittsburgh.

Strong Games Carded Today.

There are some strong games carded for this afternoon on the independent circuit. The Pittsburgh Collegians, who have been playing fine ball, will be at Braddock and Homestead will return from its trip to meet McKeesport at home. The game at Braddock should be a good one, as either Don. Doyle or "Toots" Shultz will pitch for the Collegians, and Harvey Cushman, the former Western league pitcher, will be on the rubber for McKim. Frank Eastley will likely work for Homestead. The Indiana Normal will give the Athletics at Turtle Creek a stiff argument. King, the Normal pitcher, is working nicely.

President Creamer is Placated.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—President Creamer of the Tri-State league tonight made the following statement: "Having been entirely satisfied that the Tri-State league will second my efforts to the limit to maintain clean ball, I have withdrawn my resignation and will continue to conduct the organization's affairs. Vigorous action will be taken against rowdyism of any description. I feel satisfied that the newly given power will place the league on a plane higher than ever. In the meantime the Tri-State is steadily getting the very best that money will secure."

VOTERS' LEAGUE GAINS A POINT

Witnesses in Railway Case Must Answer Questions About Stock and Charter.

NOE FAMILY'S PITIFUL CASE

The Voters' Civic league, the real plaintiff in the suit of John L. Shuff against the Grant & Liberty Street Railway Company, gained an important point in its fight yesterday when Judge Buffington ruled that witnesses must answer certain questions involving the charter of the company.

Some time ago several witnesses were brought before Commissioner H. D. Gamble, but refused to answer on advice of their attorneys when asked how much stock they held in the Grant & Liberty Street Railway Company; if the 10 per cent required by law had been paid in, and what they had done with the stock. Attorneys George E. Shaw and William B. Rodgers argued for the defendant company that the bill in the case did not attack the validity of the charter and the questions were not proper.

In the opinion filed Judge Buffington says that where the trend of testimony is not so clear that its relevancy and competency are fairly detectible questions his inclination has always been toward liberality in permitting it to be taken in equity cases. He says experience in such cases has shown that this course not only tests whether the proof will measure up to the offer, but aids a reviewing court to better determine its relevancy.

This decision enables the Voters' Civic league to learn something about the character of the stockholders of the company. The league holds that the stockholders and directors are "dummies."

Wife's Suspicions Confirmed.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce suit of Laura Humphrey against Fred Humphrey has been filed and the testimony is rather sensational. Mrs. Humphrey charges her husband with infidelity and claims to have received a letter from him asking her to remain at her parents' home in Jefferson, O., for a while, as he had accepted a position on the road. This, she claims, aroused her suspicions, and she came to Pittsburgh and after some difficulty found him living with another woman at 152 Arch street, Allegheny.

Humphrey was the Pittsburgh agent for the Ashtabula Lettuce Growers' association, and still follows that branch of the produce business. The couple were married in 1882 and lived for a number of years at Ashtabula. Mrs. Humphrey testifies that last fall they were living at 21 Montgomery avenue, Allegheny, and when her husband went to Indiana on a two months' trip for the Iron City Produce Company she went to visit her parents and remained till the letter telling of the "road position" was received. She says she charged her husband with living with Jessie Henderson as man and wife, but he said she was only his bookkeeper and he boarded with her.

She claims that she spoke to him several times, asking him to leave the woman, but that he got stubborn and would not. Other witnesses confirmed Mrs. Humphrey.

Another Chance for Noe.

An entire family, consisting of father, mother and six children, were before Judge Evans in juvenile court yesterday. They were the family of William Noe of Fourteenth street, whose case was investigated by juvenile court officers on Tuesday. The children range in ages from 2 to 16 years, and when discovered were in a pitiful condition, owing to the extreme poverty of the family. Two of the children were on the verge of starvation.

Noe told Judge Evans a tale of hard luck, but promised to secure a job and care for his faily in the future. An order was made by the court sending two of the children to St. Joseph's protectory, two to the Convalescent Home for Children and the baby and the oldest girl were alowed to go home with their parents.

Roy Collins, formerly a deckhand on the towboat Mariner, filed a libel in admicality in the United States district court. Collins claims wages, transportation home and $500 damages. He claims he was forced to leave the boat at Ripley, O., for no apparent cause, and was obliged to walk 14 miles through a practically deserted country in order to reach the nearest railroad.

Watson V. Jones, formerly borough clerk of Wilkinsburg, who was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary a year ago for embezzling borough funds, was brought from that institution to criminal court yesterday to enter a plea of no defense to an additional charge of embezzlement made by Burgess James Horner. The charge covered the taking of $55 belonging to the borough while Jones was secretary of the board of health. Jones' original embezzlement as borough clerk amounted to $3,500. Jones was sentenced to serve a year in the penitentiary, the sentence to run concurrently with his present term.

Other Criminal Court Sentences.

Other sentences were: John Hickenbottom, attempted felony, 18 months to the workhouse; Fred Johnston, assault and battery, three months to the workhouse; John Rolls, keeping a disorderly house, six months to the workhouse; Hattie Williams, selling liquor illegally, three months to the workhouse; Ernest Wagner, larceny, six months to the workhouse; Edward Ritto, assault and battery, fined $10 and costs.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed by Dominico Trazza and other creditors against Bruno Posterare, an Italian fruit dealer at 4053 Penn avenue. The combined claims amount to $630.

The grand jury returned the following true bills: Embezzlement, Walter Becker, S. S. Barnes; false pretense, S. S. Barnes; felonious assault and battery, Joseph Cohen; larceny by bailee, Paul Varnerich; assault and battery, Frank Creane, Amanda Payne, George Zeyeys; misdemeanor, Louis Henschel, Michael McArdle, Isaac Simon, Charles Wallace; selling liquor illegally, James Zimmerman, Maud Smith.

The Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company has filed an affidavit of defense to the equity suit brought by the borough of East Pittsburgh to restrain it from extending its plant in that place, as it had not complied with the ordinance granting a franchise, in that work on the plant had not been commenced within one year. The telephone company denies this and avers that it has maintained a system since November 27, 1904, and is ready to give service to all applicants.

Executions issued—First National bank of Wilkinsburg vs. W. B. and J. H. Dixon, $211.05; same vs. same, $164.85; Jacob Bernstein vs. Samuel Levine, $351.25.

Judge Buffington discontinued the case against Chiquita, the celebrated midget, brought by Frank Bostock, the showman. Bostock secured a temporary injunction restraining her from showing under another management, and the case has been held up for about three years. Chiquita is 23 inches tall and is married.

Commission to Meet in Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Roosevelt has directed that the quarterly meeting of the Isthmian canal commission, to be held July 1, be convened in this city instead of at the offices of Gov. Magoon on the isthmus. Certain matters can be better handled here than in Panama.

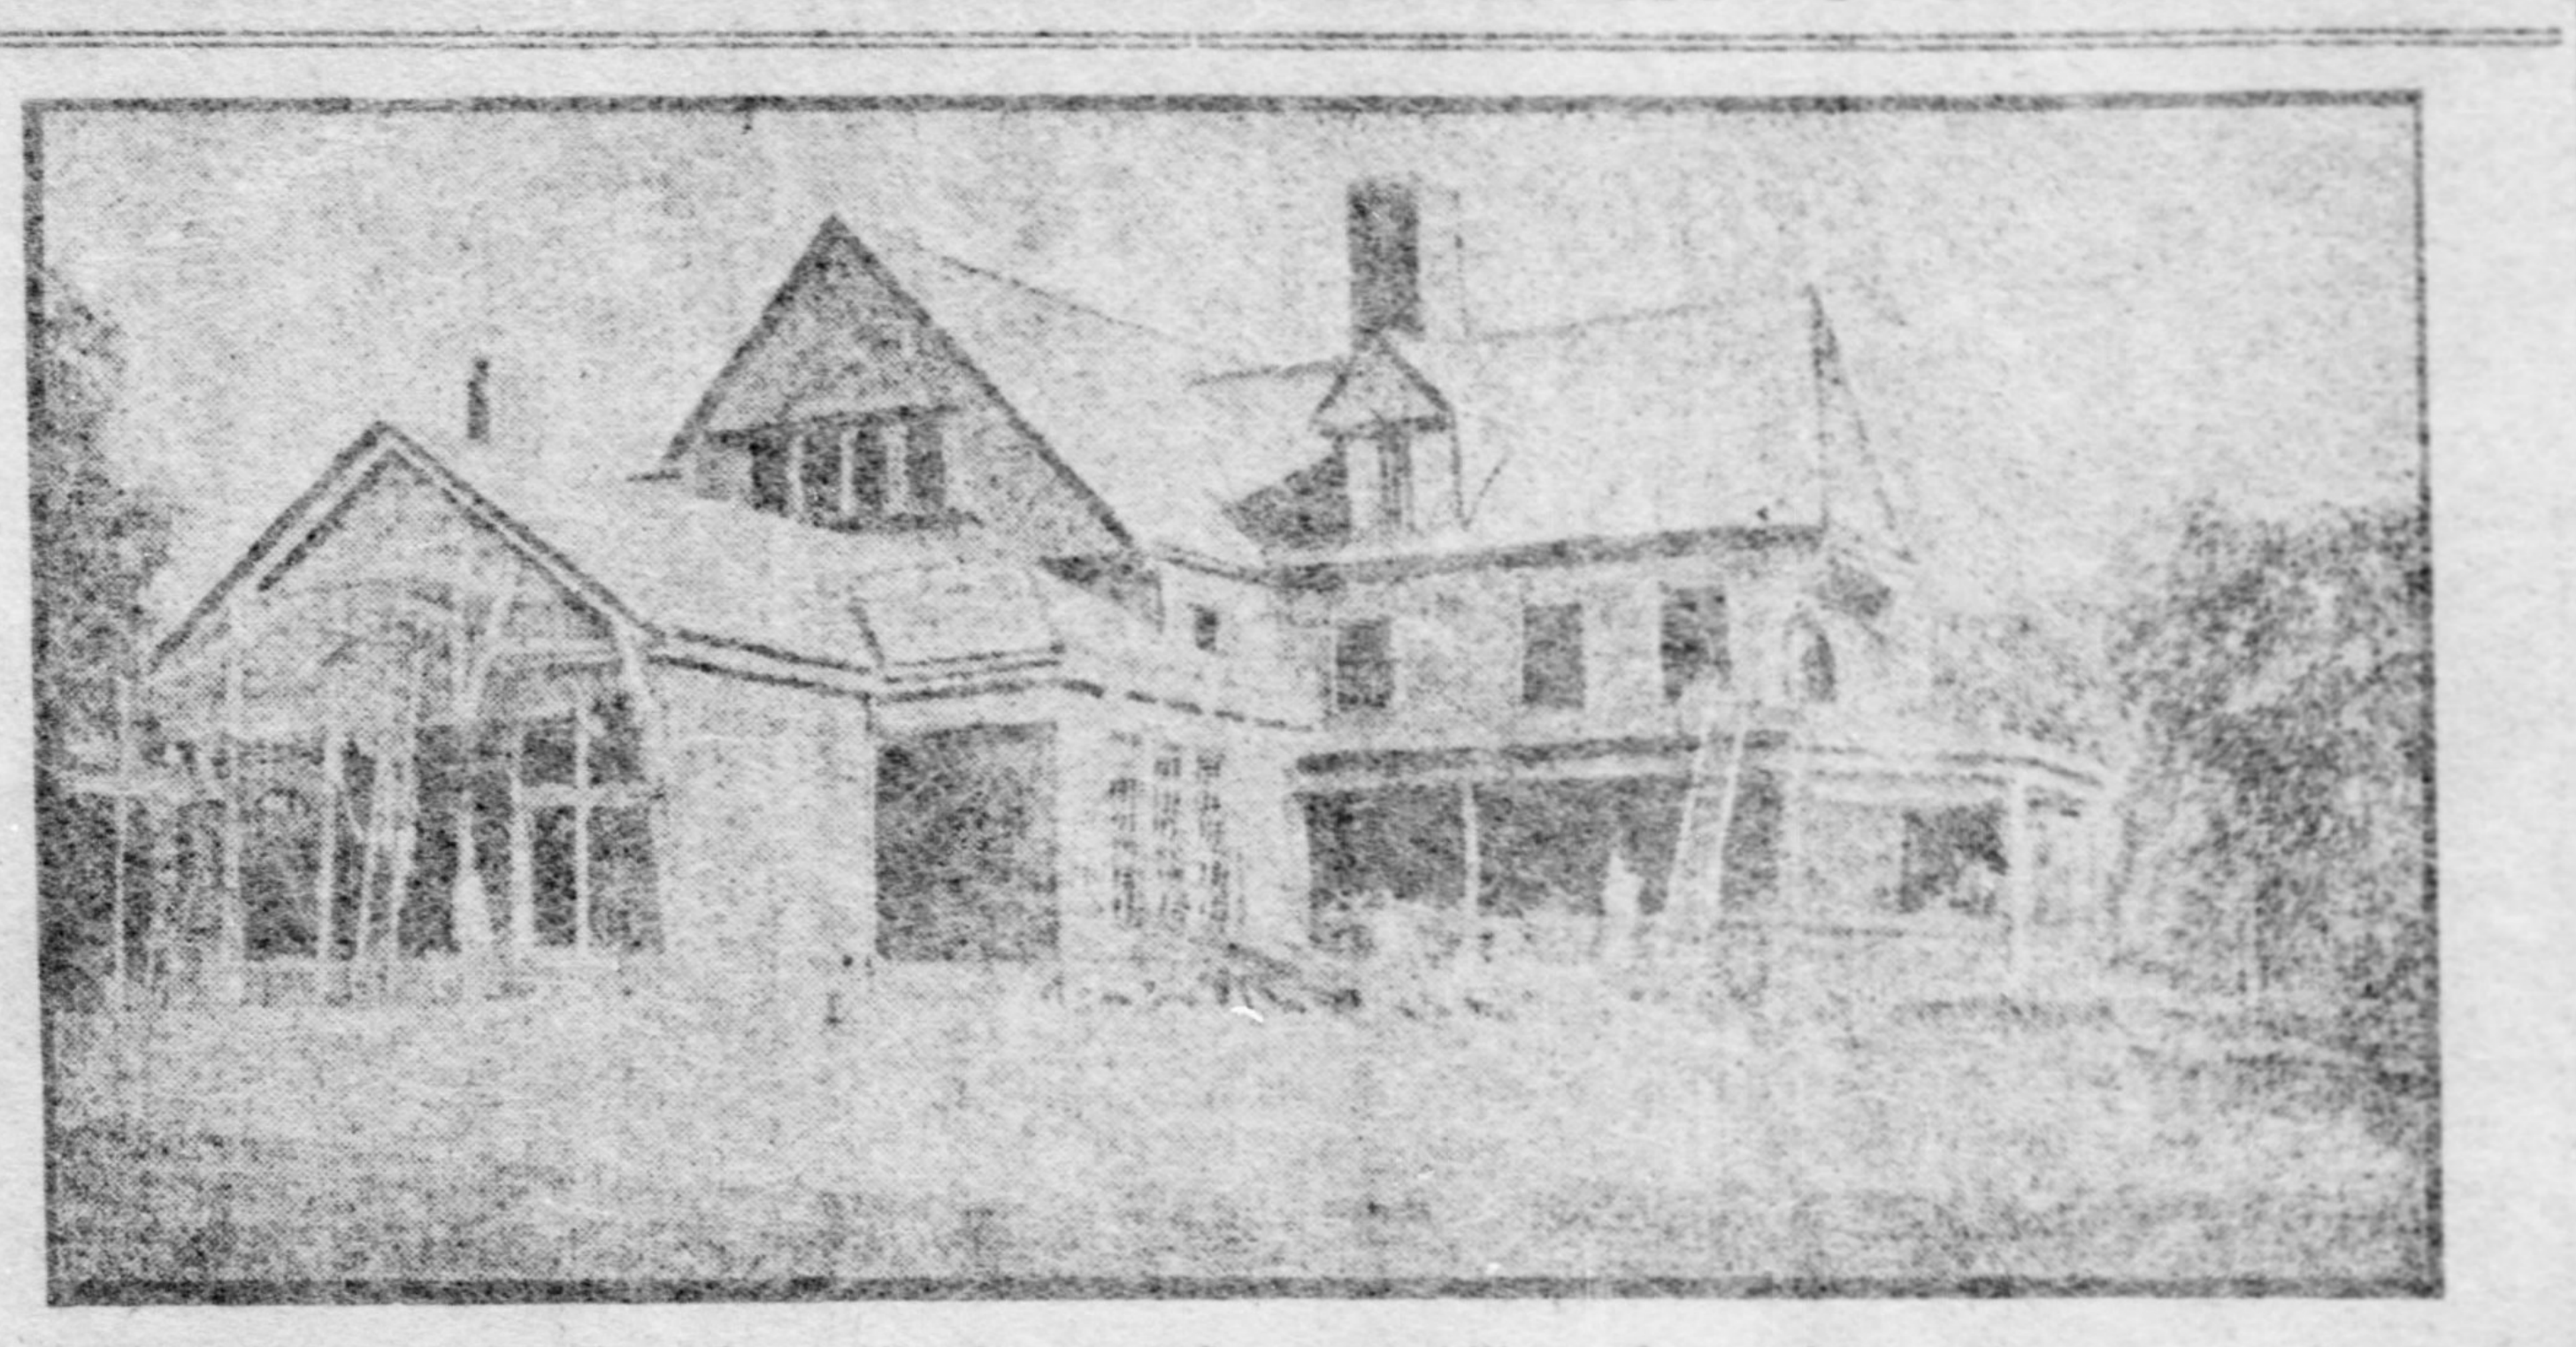
FRONTENAC, N. Y., June 23.—The American Dental Trade association at its business session here today elected Lee S. Smith, Pittsburgh, secretary.

PRESIDENT REMODELING HOME AT OYSTER BAY



This picture of President Roosevelt's house at Sagamore hill at Oyster bay shows the new library which has been added on the north side of the house. It is 40x28 feet, built of damp-proof tile veneered over with brick. It is rather low and flat, the roof being something after the fashion of a Dutch structure. It contains a big, deep fireplace, the largest on Long Island. The library is accessible from the main piazza, which was enlarged recently. The trim is of black walnut, some of it consisting of rare wood from the Philippines. The erection of the library indicates that much of the president's spare time will be passed in Oyster Bay, especially after his duties end as chief magistrate.

AN ACROBATIC ENGINE DOES STUNTS IN ALLEGHENY YARDS

An acrobatic engine in the Ft. Wayne railway yards in Allegheny yesterday afternoon gave a demonstration of what a really agile iron horse can do. It put its nose to the ground, kicked its heels in the air and landed over on its back. It freed itself from the cars to which it was shackled and came down to the earth like a schoolboy who turns his first handspring at an Allegheny jubilee. John Meade, the engineer, was only slightly injured, and other members of the train crew who watched the peculiar antics of the locomotive, were astonished to find themselves alive and well after it was all over.

A small switching engine, No. 1027, was used to haul a dirt train engaged in work upon the tracks at the Washington avenue crossing. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the soft earth supporting the temporary track upon which the engine stood, gave way and the cylinder end of the locomotive sank deep into the ground. Then it pitched forward and landed with the wheel base high in the air. The cab was crushed, but Meade managed to get out without suffering serious injury. He was taken to his home in Manchester. James Flinn, one of the workmen, was slightly bruised.

BOND QUESTION WILL FINALLY BE SETTLED

Supreme Tribunal Allows Appeals from the Superior Court in Somerset Liquor License Cases.

Prothonotary George Pearson received a number of orders and opinions handed down by the supreme court on Thursday. They included the opinion in the Greater Pittsburgh case as published yesterday.

An appeal was allowed in the eight Somerset county liquor license cases over which the temperance people have been fighting since license court sat in that county four months ago. The Somerset county court decided that the failure to insert the names of the applicants' bondsmen in the petition was a fatal defect, and that the court was without power to permit corrections to be made. The applicants appealed to the supreme court, which held that the defect was in form and not in substance, and ordered the lower court to proceed with the hearing. The anti-saloon people asked the supreme court to allow an appeal from the supreme court to be filed. In their petition they asserted that they regarded the opinion of the superior court as conflicting with other rulings it had made; that only four members of that court were present when the arguments were heard; that the opinion seems to rest largely on the opinion to the Oberfeld case and that the two cases are widely different; that sent from the legal profession in different parts of the state shows that the question is regarded as unsettled; that there ought to be an authoritative declaration in the matter as a guide for future practice as the question is one of public concern. The appeal was allowed, but no date fixed for argument before the supreme court.

Judgment of nol pros was ordered entered in 21 coal cases from Indiana county, all of them actions over options, a victory for the plaintiffs.

An appeal was allowed in the case of Charles S. Schofield, receiver of the Aetna Mutual Live Stock Company vs. Alfred Turner. The case is an action over an assessment on the stockholders of the company and originated in the Beaver county courts. The question at issue is when do the statutes of limitation begin to run. The supreme court decided that this should be completed from the time the court authorized the receiver to levy the assessment. Turner, in his petition to be allowed to appeal, holds that the supreme court has ruled in another case that the statute begins to run when insolvency is declared.

In the case of Reilly et al vs. the Crown Petroleum Company et al., common pleas Beaver county, the judgment of the lower court is affirmed. This was an action over the boundaries of an oil and gas lease.

A re-argument was ordered in the case of Morgan vs. Reel, common pleas No. 2, Allegheny county, an action in an estate. It was heard by an orphans' court judge setting in common pleas court under authority of a recent act of assembly. The constitutionality of the act was assaulted at the time, and the common pleas judges decided it was constitutional. This order fixes October as the time for argument before a full bench.

QUESTION RAISED AS TO COVERS FOR FAUST'S LEGS

West End Man Who Proposes to Celebrate Hallowe'en Wants to Know How Far the Police Will Let Him Go

"R. E. C." are the initials of a West Ender who writes as follows:

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Dear Sir:—I have noticed that you have a space in your paper, "Answers to Correspondents."

I would like to ask you a question. Would a person be allowed to wear a "Faust" suit on Halloween? That is, would you be allowed to wear the tight cloth, "Jersey cloth," over the legs like shown in any fashion book? Would be pleased to see this answered in Saturday morning's paper, as I have a Faust suit, but being as the police are so strict, would be almost afraid to wear it on Halloween. You, of course, know I could wear it by putting on loose pants, but the legs of Faust are supposed to fit like tights, and should be worn so.

The writer raises an interesting point and at such time as permits of thorough consideration by the police authorities previous to Halloween. There can be no appeal from the writer's contention that authoritative fashion plates are agreed that the legs of Faust should appear incased in Jersey cloth or in such similar material as to permit of graceful and classic outline being apparent. The question at once arises as to whether the police regulation forbidding masks and disguises is here applicable.

It is easier to believe that the ordinary, loose trouser is a mask and disguise, than it would be to construe the wearing of Jersey cloth as such. There can be no question but that the use of loose trousers over the tight-fitting leg coverings of an official Faust costume, as the writer suggests, would detract greatly from the pleasing effect of the costume, and even tend to confuse the impersonation intended in the eyes of spectators. Even the use of short trousers, or bloomers, would rob the proper Faust apparel of its grace.

It has been the annual costume of the police department to allow special privileges to masqueraders on Halloween, and these privileges are usually defined in a public announcement made a day or two previous to that event. As these dispensations are subject to change and only govern the special occasion previous to which they are announced, The Gazette is unable at this time to anticipate what the pleasure of the police department will be relative to the regulation Faust costume, but the above query will be placed in the hands of the proper authorities for consideration and their ruling will be awaited with interest.

PUPILS HANG SCHOOL PRINCIPAL IN EFFIGY

Show Dislike for "Pa Eaton's" Order Against the Boys Removing Their Coats.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WALTHAM, MASS., June 23.—The principal of the Waltham high school, Willis L. Eaton, was hanged in effigy to the top of a 40-foot flagpole by pupils of the school some time during the night.

The figure was taken down this morning by members of the fire department. The effigy was dressed in trousers, a shirt waist and a red necktie. The shirt waist was used owing to the recent order of Principal Eaton forbidding the young men in the school to remove their coats during school hours, an order that was far from popular.

Attached to the figure was a large placard upon which was printed conspicuously the words, "Behold, I am Pa." The principal is known among the scholars as "Pa" Eaton.

Srier, Frank Layton, D. Robert Mason, Ethel L. Miller, Elsie C. Morganroth, Hazel G. Ray and Elizabeth C. Barnes.

Admiral Togo Grows Old and Infirm.

The great hero of the Japanese navy is now over 54 years old and is plainly showing the effects of the trials through which he has passed. His beard is gray with the snow of many winters, his shoulders are bent with the responsibilities he has borne and he looks today more like a kindly grandfather than like a rugged, fierce sea dog. Admiral Togo's personality is intensely interesting. A splendid character sketch of this wonderful man is printed in the Index, Pittsburgh's great illustrated weekly, which is on sale at all news stands on Saturday. Be sure to get a copy early, for during the past month it has been impossible to supply the demand. The Index is far and away the best illustrated weekly published outside of New York city.

The Peairs Reunion.

The descendants of Elisha Peairs, an old resident of Allegheny county, held a reunion at the residence of Andrew F. Peairs and sisters in Elizabeth township yesterday. The number of descendants is about 125, of whom 102 were present. F. P. Douglass, a McKeesport attorney, sketched the history of the family from 1778 and read several interesting letters from absent members. T. C. Stephenson, district manager of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, gave an interesting talk on the family genealogy. Attorney T. E. Finley spoke, as did Attorney J. H. Scott of Iowa. The latter gave a talk on western Peairses and advocated reunions. The Peairs family is not only exceedingly ancient, but also very large. It sprang from the Percys of England and is peculiar for the fact that the name can properly be spelled in 19 different ways. Several genealogical books have been published by members of the family, but they have generally embraced the English branch only, and the American line still remains in oblivion. Mr. Stephenson has taken a great deal of interest in the biographical feature, and some definite knowledge may soon be obtained. This is the first reunion of the family held in Pennsylvania.

Conservatory Year Is Closed.

Last evening the commencement recitals at the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music closed with a brilliant program given by the graduates in the pianoforte department, assisted by Miss Marjorie Riley, soprano. The graduates were Miss Camilla Maher, Miss Helen G. Potts, Miss Anna Slaymaker and Mrs. Otto C. Gaub. Miss Potts sang the jewel song from "Faust," and Miss Riley contributed an aria from "Der Freischeutz," and two songs by Richard Strauss. The piano program was as follows: Rameau, gavotte and variations, Mrs. Otto C. Gaub; Beethoven, rondo in G, op. 51, Miss Anna Slaymaker; Beethoven, rondo in G, op. 125, Miss Potts; Weber, "Concertstueck," Miss Slaymaker; Schubert-Liszt, "Du bist die Ruh," and Reinhold, impromptu in C sharp minor, Mrs. Gaub; sgambati, etude, and Schumann, tarantelle, Miss Camille Maher; Chopin, andante and polonaise, op. 22, Miss Maher. This evening Director Webster and the members of the faculty will receive the students and their friends, this event closing the school year.

People Coming and Going.

Mr. and Mrs. Murry A. Verner have closed their Penn avenue home and are now established at Lakewood, N. Y., for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson, Jr., and Master Robert Carson will leave Pittsburgh about the middle of July. They have not yet decided whether they will spend the remainder of the summer at Bedford or in Canada.

Miss Lucy Newhall of Germantown is the house guest of Miss Grace Kelley of Shady lane and Howe street. As she is in mourning, Miss Kelley is not entertaining formally for her guest.

Miss Jessie McNair of New York City is spending a fortnight as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Haines Allen Machesney of Fifth and Amberson avenues. A number of informal little affairs are being made in Miss McNair's honor.

Robbins-McClure.

Miss Mary J., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robbins of Comrie avenue, Braddock, and James O. McClure of Duquesne were married last evening at the bride's home by the Rev. George E. Hawes. The attendants were Miss Olive Robbins, a sister of the bride, and Frank Williams. About 30 relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. McClure left on a wedding tour. They will live in Duquesne.

Lieut. Blaine Coming Home.

Lieut. Wilbur Blaine of the Twenty-third regiment, United States infantry, sailed from Manila on May 15 and is expected in Pittsburgh during the latter part of this month. Lieut. Blaine is a Butler resident. His marriage to Miss Mary Robinson of Mercer, a niece of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Hanna Small of this city, will take place soon after his arrival in this part of the country, and a date in July will probably be set. The wedding will take place in Mercer.

Mrs. Warren Elsey of Hazelwood was hostess at a rose tea at her home in Hazelwood yesterday afternoon at which visiting guests were Mrs. S. E. Crotois of East Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Curtis Noss of Rochester, Pa., and Mrs. J. M. Hustead of Uniontown. Assisting Mrs. Elsey were Mrs. Charles Voigt, Mrs. H. D. Scully, Mrs. D. A. Wilburt, Mrs. H. O. Hornberger, Mrs. James Mills and Mrs. Robert McWheny. The dining room was a profusion of roses, while other floral decorations were conspicuous throughout the house.

McKim-Morse.

Miss Helen M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McKim of Hawkins, and Henry B. Morse of New Castle were married at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. George E. Hawes, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Braddock. The attendants were Miss Lillie McKim, a sister of the bride, and William Morse, a brother of the groom. After a wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Morse left for New Castle, where they will live.

Prizes Are Awarded for Euchre.

Mrs. James Bunting, Miss Marion Kirk and Mrs. Edward B. Goehring won the prizes at a euchre which Mrs. Harry M. Goehring gave at her home in Wilkinsburg yesterday afternoon. Six-hand euchre was played at six tables and the honors of the affair were shared by Mrs. Jacob H. Goehring, an April bride, and by Miss Sara Goodfellow of Hollidaysburg, who is spending three weeks with the hostess.

Pinkerton-Harper Wedding Plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Pinkerton issued cards some time ago for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jane Pinkerton, and G. Thomas Harper, to take place at their home in Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, on Thursday evening, next. Miss Mary Mitchell of Bellevue has been chosen as maid of honor and the bridal party will also include Roy Harper, a brother of the bridegroom, as best man.

At her home in Wilkinsburg yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Harry M. Goehring entertained at an informal card party in honor of Mrs. Jacob H. Goehring, a bride of the early spring, and Miss Sara Goodfellow of Hollidaysburg, who is Mrs. Goehring's house guest. Six-handed euchre was played and a luncheon was served after the game.

FRIENDS OF FRIEND GIVE HIM A SEND-OFF

Banquet Tendered Penn Avenue Furniture Man on the Eve of European Voyage.

Charles H. Friend, the Penn avenue furniture man, and Mrs. Friend, will leave next week for a tour of Europe. Mr. Friend had expected to slip away quietly from his office and yesterday wound up all his business affairs, closed his desk, packed his trunk, put something in for luck and prepared to go to New York to embark. He was asked to drop around to the Concordia club in Stockton avenue, Allegheny, last night. He heard a phonograph imitating a Swiss yodeler, but thought nothing unusual was going on until he was asked into the dining room.

Charles H. Friend.

A banquet was spread for 60 people. Around sat Mr. Friend's business associates and a number of his friends who had opportunely dropped in to say good-bye. Attorney William Kaufman was toastmaster. Each guest had something to say and no orator was restricted as to the time of his speech.

Mr. Friend thanked them in his own way and promised to bring back a few souvenirs from the strange lands he expects to visit.

MISS MONTGOMERY IS CHIEF.

Judge Evans Makes Her Head of the Probation Officers.

Judge Evans, deciding that system was needed in the juvenile court scheme of having probation officers, appointed Miss Alice B. Montgomery chief probation officer yesterday afternoon. He advised the other probation officers that they would be subject to the orders of the chief, except where otherwise ordered by the court. The court said:

"I do not say there is lack of harmony, but a better system should be established. Application has been made to the county commissioners for better quarters and an effort will be made to provide them in the near future. A system should be established in the preparation of reports, and I think that under this arrangement everything will be more satisfactory."

AMONG THE CLUBS

Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary.

A busy summer campaign is being planned by the members of Calvary Episcopal church parish, Penn avenue and Station street, East End. It will include outings of two weeks into the country for children and convalescents and picnics throughout the summer season for nearly 1,000 poor people of the East End and various sections of the city. In addition to this work, which will be carried on by the teachers and classes in the Sunday school, the Girls' Friendly society will establish a summer home this season, and the Sisterhood is doing much philanthropic work, beside aiding in the summer work which the Sunday school is taking up.

The Sunday school of Calvary church tomorrow will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its organization. A special service will be conducted in the church in the afternoon, when short addresses will be made by former superintendents, among them being James W. Brown, S. Jarvis Adams and H. D. W. English. Every member of the school will be presented with a little bronze medal, on one side bearing a bas-relief picture of the church and on the other an inscription commemorative of the day. The school now has 500 members.

For a number of years the Sunday school has given up its annual picnic, and instead has contributed toward the entertainment of the poor. This year it will have no picnic, but during the coming week a musicale will be given in recognition of the fiftieth anniversary. Eight days have been selected for the summer outings in the parks, and each day will be in charge of some teacher and her class of Sunday school scholars. A party of from 80 to 100 people will meet on each special day at the church, where carriages and wagonettes will be waiting to take them to the parks where, after drives over the boulevards, lunch will be served, and later supper. There will be games, music and other exercises and in the evening the carriages will return to take the people home. This will be repeated until nearly 1,000 people will have been entertained in this manner by the Sunday school and parish.

Arrangements will be made so that a number of children and convalescents may be sent to the Lillian home, Kingsley house's summer home, and to the summer home of the Society for the Improvement of the Poor and to other institutions outside the city. The parish will provide the railroad tickets for them and for others who have relatives in the country but cannot bear the expense of travel themselves. This work is estimated to cost $1,200. Mrs. C. R. Groff, who has been the parish visitor for 15 years, and Miss Anne Hull, the trained nurse, have direct supervision of this summer work for the poor.

New Idea in Sand Boxes.

Covered sand boxes, the newest idea in this feature of the equipment of the summer playground, will be used in Washington Recreation park this season. They are roofed sheds, open on all sides, within which the sand boxes are placed and where the children can play, protected alike from the hot rays of the sun or the rain. The parks committee is very proud of Washington park, which, during the past two years, has taken on a wholly different appearance from the former neglected area on Herron hill. The new gymnasium, which will be for the use of girls alone, will have a large practice room, and will be equipped with a couple of shower baths. A trained teacher will be in charge, and arrangements will be made for the practice of two classes every morning and two each afternoon. The park is to be open morning and afternoon and, with the ball games, the summer playground work and vacation school and the proposed evening band concerts, it is ready to fill a long-felt want in the social life of the thousands of people, big and little, who are crowded into the tenement districts on Herron hill.

Date for Anniversary Entertainment.

The United Presbyterian Women's association yesterday selected Thursday, July 13, as the day for the lawn fete which will be given at the Home for the Aged in Penn avenue and Trenton street, Wilkinsburg. This is an annual entertainment, and is usually held in June, but the delay in the work of erecting the wing to the Home for the Aged and the building of the new Columbia hospital made a postponement necessary. It is expected that the work will be so far along that should it rain on July 13 the dining room in the new wing will be finished so that supper may be served there. In anticipation of pleasant weather, however, the tables will be arranged out-of-doors as usual. The other features of the entertainment will be similar to those of other years. At the meeting yesterday afternoon the first vice president, Mrs. Levi Bird Duff, presided, in the absence of the president, Mrs. H. C. Campbell. Mrs. Duff has just returned after a two weeks' visit to her sister, Mrs. Mary Aker, in Ft. Wayne.

New Kindergarten in Homestead.

A free kindergarten for Bohemians will be opened in Homestead in September, supported by the Shadyside Presbyterian church. Miss Lydia Kasporova, a member of this year's graduating class of the Kindergarten college, will be the director. Miss Kasporova came from Bohemia two years ago to study kindergarten methods in order to work among the Bohemians and other foreigners in Western Pennsylvania.

Cot Club in Kennywood.

The West Penn Hospital Cot club held a picnic yesterday afternoon and evening in Kennywood park. It was an outing for the club members only, who were joined in the evening by a few friends. The club will hold no regular meetings during the summer, but in the fall will be prepared to take up the matter of installing a new X-ray machine in the West Penn hospital.

Read the Serious Personal Study By Ida M. Tarbell Of a Great Public Character

John D. Rockefeller

During the five years that Miss Tarbell has studied the history of the Standard Oil Company, her work has necessarily been a study of John D. Rockefeller.

In this article she sets down her personal estimate of Mr. Rockefeller's character. It is a singularly interesting and illuminating study of the man, his methods and career and their effect upon his character and conscience. To understand the moral and business principles, as well as the almost resistless power of the Standard Oil Company and its allied and supporting institutions, including banks, trust companies, life insurance companies and railroads, it is necessary to know the man who is its soul, its founder and its human prototype.

The article contains a great collection of portraits, including pictures of Mr. Rockefeller, his father, his mother and brothers.

NET GAINS RECORDED IN NEW YORK STOCKS

Advances Were Not Large, but Trading Was Active and the Market Firm—Further Declines in the Pittsburgh Coal Issues.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The activity in the New York stock market continued yesterday and during the first two hours the sales exceeded 500,000 shares. The lower London quotations received before the opening in Wall street, caused some hesitation during the first half hour, but the market recovered tone, advanced to the highest average on this movement, and then in the latter part of the session sold off, closing steady to firm. The net changes for the day were not large, but there were more gains than losses.

It is estimated that London sold about 100,000 shares in the New York market. The selling continued throughout the session, and was based upon the news and rumor relating to the situation between France and Germany. Paris and Berlin were reported to be sellers of continental securities in the London market, and French rentes were lower. Whatever the real situation abroad may be, the effects have thus far been confined to the foreign markets. The news from the far east suggesting that active hostilities had been resumed between the armies in Manchuria was probably responsible for the reaction of ½ per cent in Japanese 4½s in the New York market.

Union Pacific was the leader of the market during the early part of the day and advanced 2 per cent to 127. It held this gain relatively better than any other stock and closed a point higher for the day. Southern Pacific was also strong, and there were confident predictions that a dividend at the rate of 5 per cent per annum would be declared on the common stock next week. St. Paul and Illinois Central each closed ½ per cent higher, while Atchison and Rock Island closed ¾ per cent lower. Traders paid little attention to the reports of crop damages, but the latter had some effect upon commodity values, wheat advancing sharply and closing higher.

The Pennsylvania group was active and firm, but Reading was the only member to close higher and the gain in this stock was 1 per cent. Pennsylvania touched 140 and Baltimore & Ohio 111½, but both closed unchanged for the day.

The United States Steel issues both reached the highest prices on this movement, but the close was unchanged for the common and only ⅛ per cent higher for the preferred. Tennessee Coal and Iron closed ¾ lower. In the remainder of the industrial list the features were the weakness in American Hide and Leather preferred and Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which closed lower. Amalgamated Copper closed ¼ higher and American Smelting ½ higher.

The known movements of money during the week indicate an increase of approximately $7,000,000 cash in today's bank statement. Of this total $3,400,000 represented receipts from the interior, the latter being the largest for a long time. Call loan rates were a shade firmer.

The feature of the local stock market was the weakness in the coal issues. Pittsburgh Coal furnished more than half the total dealings, nearly 500 shares of the common and more than 2,000 shares of the preferred changing hands. The selling apparently came from New York, which also led in the decline. The common sold down to 15½ and closed offered at that price. The preferred opened lower at 70, broke to 67¾, as compared with 67⅛ in New York, rallied slightly and closed at 68½ bid. River Coal preferred was again offered at 24¼, the low point of Thursday, but there was absolutely no demand for the stock. An official of the Pittsburgh Coal Company in New York was quoted denying the rumors that competition had become so sharp as to seriously affect earnings, and an official of the River Coal Company was quoted as saying that the shipments of coal to the southern markets for the past half-year were larger than for the entire fiscal period last year.

The rest of the market was dull and rather heavy. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas broke 3 points to 61 on the marketing of less than 100 shares, but closed steady at 61 bid. Manufacturers Light and Heat was steady at 35½. Crucible Steel preferred closed ½ lower at 61¾ and United States Steel preferred, after selling at 97½, rallied to 98 bid at the close. Westinghouse Electric rallied to 84½ bid and Air Brake closed a dollar higher at 145 bid.

In the bond list Monongahela Light and Power 5s declined 1¼ per cent to 101, while Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s made a new high record by selling at 104½. Iron City Trust was 1 per cent higher at 130.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The selling of Pittsburgh Coal stocks, which caused a decline to the lowest prices for more than a month, seemed to come from New York. At least the latter market led the decline and a lower price was made in New York than in Pittsburgh. The weakness may be ascribed to the announcement that the company had sold its treasury stock, presumably on the sharp advance which occurred just after the listing of the stocks in New York last month. Wall street inferred from this announcement that the company was no longer interested in sustaining the market price, because it has no more securities for sale, and the present selling is thought to represent liquidation of stock accumulated by speculators on the advance of a few weeks ago. According to street gossip the treasury stock was sold to parties who are not likely to throw it upon the market at anything like current prices. The latter are now so low, however, compared with other industrial preferred stocks, that they naturally reflect uncertainty as to the maintenance of the preferred dividend at the full rate. On this point President Francis L. Robbins said yesterday that action on the dividend was not due until next month, that when the meeting for that purpose is called the earnings for June will of course be taken into consideration, and that these earnings so far are the best for any month this year.

A special from New York yesterday said the Wall Street Journal published the following statement: "An official of the Pittsburgh Coal Company denies that there is at this time competition in the Pittsburgh soft coal trade which threatens lower prices later in the year. There has been a decided change for the better during the past 30 days. Prices are hardening and the outlook at the present moment is decidedly for better prices during the summer and fall months. It is true that there was competition during the earlier months resulting mainly from the fact that the Pittsburgh Coal Company declined to renew the five-year contracts under which two large jobbers of coal for shipment on the great lakes had heretofore handled about 1,250,000 tons of Pittsburgh Coal Company coal, and refused to enter into any working arrangement with these two firms as to prices for coal to be sold this season on the great lakes. These jobbers for several months pursued a rule or ruin policy and sold a considerable amount of coal at less than cost of production. It will be remembered, however, that one of these firms recently restored a 50-cent per ton cut which it had previously made in the price of vessel fueling, the Pittsburgh Coal Company not having met the cut. The Pittsburgh Coal Company's mines are being operated at a lower cost a ton today than ever before. This comes about through the fact that during the first six months of this year there has been a decided increase in output, about 35 per cent in excess of the output during the same period of 1904. The company, following the policy inaugurated at its organization, has aimed to use its larger and cheaper operations to the maximum, closing down the smaller mines which invariably have a higher cost of production a ton until such time as trade requirements exceed the capacity of the larger and cheaper operations. The earnings of the company this year and the present outlook do not justify any apprehension with respect to the dividend on the preferred stock."

In the New York market the selling for London account was a special burden, the foreign markets being unsettled by renewed anxiety over the Moroccan situation. Operators in stocks, however, showed the same disposition to ignore unfavorable factors as for several days past. The prospect of criminal suits in the Equitable Life affair was cited even as helpful to the market, owing to the thoroughgoing nature of the reform thus indicated. Both the wheat and cotton market were decidedly unsettled by reports of conditions against the crops. Nevertheless the granger stocks were prominent in the day's advance and were resorted to in the shift from the Pennsylvania group, in which there was selling to realize on the advance. The market showed none of its former sensitiveness to the reiteration of the president's views on control and regulation of corporations contained in his speeches this week.

The week's currency movement has resulted in a large accumulation in New York, estimates running to as high as $7,000,000. Including routine exchanges with the interior, transfers through the sub-treasury from San Francisco, payments on account of receipts of Klondike gold and on account of the regular fiscal operations of the government. A strong bank return is therefore expected.

The directors of the Central Trust Company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable July 1.

The Equitable Trust Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent payable July 1 to stock of record June 27.

On the New York stock exchange yesterday a trader offered to wager.

The capital stock of the Bankers Trust Company has been listed on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It closed yesterday at 60 bid.

Dick & Robinson, bankers and brokers of Philadelphia, and the Harrisburg Trust Company of Harrisburg have been jointly awarded $718,400 of the Harrisburg public improvement 3½ per cent bonds. The bonds have an average life of 17½ years. There were several other bidders.

The United Copper Company has made application to have its common and preferred stock listed on the Pittsburgh stock exchange.

The gross earnings of Wabash for May decreased $23,905, and net decreased $294,990.

Electric Storage Battery Company has declared a dividend of 1½ per cent on the common and preferred stocks, payable July 1 to stock of record June 26.

Directors of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable July 15. Books close July 5 and reopen July 15.

The International Smokeless Powder Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 37½ cents per share, payable July 1 to stock of record June 20. This is the same rate as for the first quarter of 1905 and for the corresponding quarter a year ago. The Dupont International Powder Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 1 to stock of record June 20. While the Dupont company dividends thus far in 1905 are at the rate of 5 per cent, the same as in 1904, it is thought that the dividend for the fourth quarter may be made large enough to pay 5½ per cent on Dupont preferred for the year, the stock being entitled to it when earned.

CONTINUE THE EFFORT TO BOOST THE MARKET

Professionals, However, Make as Unsatisfactory Job of It as on Preceding Day.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Herald this (Saturday) morning says:

Concerted efforts to advance prices on the stock exchange were continued yesterday. The machine-made movement was less satisfactory than on the preceding day, for on the advance there was extensive realizing on a distributive selling. This influenced recessions irregularly at the close.

Business was continued upon about the same scale of acting as on the preceding day. Its distribution, however, was even poorer, and the narrow group of issues, which were made active, clearly indicated that the entire market was a pool and clique affair and confined to a limited element at that. Traders, of course, took a hand in the issue that the bull clique was working, but they were content to take small profits. There was little or no public participations in the market. Experienced brokers gave as their opinion that it was doubtful if Wall street had ever experienced a market as artificial as that of the last few days.

Important news developments of the day were unfavorable. Paris was very much disturbed by developments in the Moroccan situation, and the weakness in that market communicated to all European markets. Consols and rentes both declined sharply, while all classes of securities at London, Paris and Berlin were depressed.

Domestic developments centered again around the Equitable Life Assurance society. Professional traders, with an inspiration from "higher up," which seems to be a term applicable to Wall street since its institutions have fallen into the hands of "grafters," did their best to offset the most recent scandalous revelations. The fact that at District Attorney Jerome's request the criminal branch of the supreme court is to continue in session to deal with Equitable disclosures, requires no comment. The public is not to be blamed for its reluctance to participate in the market while the prospect remains of criminal prosecution against some very prominent men.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, June 23.—The Boston Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow of the wool market:

Buying has been less active, owing to lack of supplies, and the previous heavy purchasing by manufacturers. However, a satisfactory volume of business has been transacted, with prices still maintained on their high basis. Foreign wools are in good demand and some have been reshipped to England. Shearing in Montana has been materially delayed by heavy rains, while prices are slightly easier there. Contracting for 1906 has been done in Nevada and Idaho. Fleece wools are still demanding high prices. The foreign markets are still very strong with only light supplies, the native English wools having advanced 5 cents. The shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 29, 1904, according to the same authority, are 119,169,036 pounds, against 99,432,490 pounds at the same time last year. The receipts to date are 163,787,134 pounds, against 121,967,871 for the same period last year.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market is steady to firm at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, June 23.—Rates for money and discounts opened steady in the market today, but the indifference of the public minimized operations and they closed irregular. Prices on the stock exchange weakened in view of the uncertainty of continental politics and on Paris selling. Americans opened firm, but later there were fractional mixed changes from parity and stocks were mostly lower. The tone was unsettled and the dealings were restricted. The market rallied somewhat later, but at the close prices were easier. Continental securities were heavy. Russians were lower. Colombian bonds were weak on the report that a hitch has occurred in regard to the claim against Panama. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 103. Consols for money, 90 11-16; consols for account, 90 3-16. Bar silver steady at 27 1-16d per ounce. Money, 1@1¼ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 1 15-16@2 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 1 15-16@2 per cent.

PARIS, June 23.—The bourse was much agitated today by apprehensions regarding the Moroccan question, causing a heavy decline in rentes. Threes went off 35 centimes at the outset on many offers. Later calmness was partially restored by purchases in behalf of the government. After a period of inactivity renewed offers of rentes caused a further decline in those securities, which closed badly at 97.90. Other securities were sympathetically affected, Rio tintos losing 22 francs. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 88.60 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 503. Three per cent rentes, 97 francs 90 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 13 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, June 23.—Prices on the boerse today were weaker upon the reception of Premier Rouvier's note in Berlin and the rumored mobilization of French troops. Americans were firm upon New York advance. Exchange on London, 20 marks 27 pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 2⅝ per cent; three months' bills, 2¼ per cent.

Internal Revenue Statement.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The monthly statement of the collections of internal revenue shows that for the month of May, 1905, the total receipts were $13,681,246, an increase as compared with May, 1904, of $1,110,818. EVENTH STREET SALE OF $86,000

The Rose Bannon Property at 109-113 Changes Hands. Frankstown Avenue Deal.

GOOD PRICE FOR A COAL FARM

The Rose Bannon property at 109-11-13 Seventh street has been sold for about $86,000. As usual in the majority of the sales made nowadays, the identity of the buyer is carefully hidden, but the articles of agreement in the deal are said to have been signed several days. The property consists of a three-story brick building, 60 feet square, facing on the east side of the street, three doors from Duquesne way and adjoining the new repository of the Gerber Carriage Company. The prospects of Seventh street becoming a desirable business thoroughfare when its grade is raised are evidently encouraging real estate investors to put their money there, as this is the second large transaction in the street within a week. Last Saturday Nicola & Shenk sold to H. J. Lang 20 feet nearly across the street from this lot for $60,000, or $3,000 a front foot, but the lot had a depth of 110 feet, making the sale figure at $27 27 a square foot as compared with $23 89 paid for the Bannon lot. Last week's sale showed a profit of 300 per cent in less than three years, and it is doubtful if the Bannon property could have been sold in 1903 for more than half what it brings now.

A $50,000 Deal in Second Avenue.

W. B. Bennett has sold to A. E. Succop his property at 336-338 Second avenue for $50,000. The lot is 30x80 feet and is next to the Dilworth warehouse, just below Smithfield street, which was sold to the Ruud Manufacturing Company a short time ago. A substantial three-story brick building on the site is rented for $2,500 a year, the first floor being occupied by the Electrical Equipment and Supply Company. This purchase is at the rate of $1,667 a front foot, or $20 83 a square foot. This compares very favorable with $1,777 a front foot, or $22 22 a square foot, which Leopold Vilsack paid two weeks ago for the H. J. Bailey holdings nearly opposite this lot.

Another Frankstown avenue sale was reported yesterday, the property being that of F. J. Walsh on the south side of the avenue, beyond Station street. It consists of 20x110 feet, improved with a brick store building, which is well rented. The sale, which is at $900 a front foot, is credited to the East End Savings and Trust Company, but the name of the buyer could not be learned yesterday.

Coal and Oil Land Brings $65,000.

Harry M. Pfahl and F. W. Ward have bought from G. J. and T. H. Boyd a tract of 275 acres of coal land in fee simple and the lease on 75 acres more adjoining for $65,000. The property is about one mile back of Beaver Falls on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad, and the purchase includes the coal, a 3½ foot vein of drift coal and the oil leases. At present the wells on the farm are producing from 75 to 100 barrels of oil a day. There is a small coal bank on the farm now, and this will be equipped with modern machinery, so that 100 tons a day can be mined. The buyers also expect to open a brick and clay manufacturing plant on the property this year, as there is an excellent deposit of brick clay easily worked.

It develops that S. M. Willock and not H. H. Willock is the buyer of the Bradley place frontage on the Pennsylvania railroad in Shadyside, which was sold a few days ago for $65,000, and that the deal was made by Henry L. Fisher. This property includes about four acres, part of which is under a one-year lease to the Sun Oil Company. The Squirrel Hill frontage which Mr. Willock tendered for this property is 28 lots, 25x100 feet each, in the Country club plan. They face in Beechwood boulevard and Waldron street and were put into the deal at $45,000.

As part payment for the property at 407-409 Second avenue, which he bought Thursday for $50,000, L. T. Yoder tendered to James Crosby 135x164 feet at the northwest corner of Wilkins and Murray Hill avenues, Twenty-second ward, which was put into the deal at $40,000. The property runs back to South Negley avenue and will be improved by McCready & Moore, the purchasers, with several good brick houses this summer.

Place for First Ward School.

The First ward board of education is the buyer of the Wabash hotel property at First avenue and Ferry street, the sale of which for $45,000 was announced in The Gazette yesterday. The brick building on the lot is a fairly good one and will be remodeled for a school house. When the old First ward school house was sold last fall for $100,000 it was announced that the board would probably buy another lot or building in the ward. The number of pupils now enrolled in the First ward is only a fraction of the former school attendance, and the need of a large building is, therefore, done away with. For a time it was proposed to unite this school with the Fourth ward public school in Duquesne way, but this plan was abandoned.

Architects George S. Orth & Brothers have awarded the contract to the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company for the steel work on the 11-story office building which the Pittsburgh Coal Company is erecting on the lot adjoining its present building in Fifth avenue. Excavations for the building are well under way and bids for the general contract are being considered now.

H. B. Naylor returned from New York yesterday and announced that the Phipps tenement houses in Allegheny will not be started before August 1. The plans for the buildings are being worked out very carefully and every sanitary feature will be looked after with the utmost care, especially the water supply. There will be 300 suites of rooms in the buildings, each of which will be five stories high. Mr. Phipps has decided to improve the site of the old Charles nut works with tenements, as well as the lot at the corner of Rebecca and School streets.

Bought in Popular Locality.

Pittsburgh investors are beginning to take a lively interest in the deals for farm lands on the south side of the Ohio river, where several good purchases have been made lately. Not long ago W. A. Hoeveler and F. W. Patterson, the county road engineer, each bought two or more farms in Beaver county and now it is announced that C. E. Powers of Cleveland has bought a farm of 28 acres in Moon township for $6,150. The property belonged to Frederick Erb and is about a mile from Monaca station on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad on a road having a long frontage on a public road that is nearly level. It commands a fine view of the Ohio and Beaver valleys for 10 miles or more. The house on the farm will be remodeled by the purchaser and provided with a bath, reservoir, gasoline engine, pump, electric lights and hot water heating system. Next year Mr. Powers intends to build a modern country residence on the river front, 300 feet above the water level. Mr. Powers is general manager of the Guiler Gas Coal Company and mines extensively on the Youghiogheny division of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. He made the purchase through A. D. Sterrett of the firm of Vet L. Brown & Co., and will take possession of the property in a few days.

The same company sold for John F. Knoll of Girard, Erie county, Pa., to William Rubenstein of Allegheny, the Knoll hotel at Girard for $23,500. The hotel is one of the best known hostelries along the lake shore, and is a three-story brick building containing 30 rooms and surrounded by a half acre of land.

Deed for Jewish Temple Site.

Abraham Lippman, president of the Jewish congregation Rodeph Shalom, yesterday got the deed for the Bernard Rafferty lot in Fifth avenue, between Bidwell street and Morewood avenue, Twentieth ward, which was bought a few weeks ago for $60,000. The lot is irregular in shape, having a frontage of 147 feet on the north side of the avenue, with a depth of about 246 feet.

Dilworth Brothers and others have conveyed to Mary B. Dilworth 175x140 feet on the south side of Lincoln avenue, Twenty-first ward, and 165x140 feet, in Westmoreland street, Twenty-first ward, for $10,060.

Elgin avenue: The Freehold Real Estate Company has closed the sale to Paul W. Brown of 37x153 feet in Elgin avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $5,200. This is the last of eight lots sold for C. A. and J. D. Anderson and will be improved with a modern residence.

Allegheny: The Real Estate Savings and Trust Company sold for Christian Hildebrand to the Rev. Benjamin H. Lee an improved lot 27x100 feet, on the north side of East Jefferson street, Allegheny, for $3,350.

Jones avenue: C. G. Mitchell sold for C. W. McCormick to George Porter a two and a half story frame house on 20x100 feet in Jones avenue, Twelfth ward, for $2,500. As part payment Mr. Porter tendered two vacant lots 48x100 feet, on the west side of Haldane street, Twenty-third ward, for $1,500.

Summit park: Keck, Helle & Daschbach sold for the Summit Park Land Company to C. C. McMillen 100x200 feet in Library road, Summit park, for $825.

Scattering Realty Deals.

Station street: Ida J. Girton sold to Mrs. Olivia Love an improved lot 25x100 feet, on the north side of Station street, Twenty-first ward, for $7,500.

Gross street: F. F. Curize sold to the Duquesne Reduction Company 100x100 feet at Gross and Yew streets, Twentieth ward, for $2,200.

Hermitage street: Annie M. Schneider sold to John C. Repp 25x93.5 feet in Hermitage street, Twenty-first ward, for $1,500.

Boggs avenue: William G. Miller sold to William E. Carrington an improved lot 31x100 feet, in Boggs avenue, near Lelia street, Thirty-second ward, for $5,885.

Chislett street: Josephine W. Garber sold to Herman F. Sachs 40x100 feet, on the north side of Chislett street, Eighteenth ward, for $2,000.

Allegheny: The Land Trust Company sold through Liggett & Lennox for S. W. Gault and J. M. Harger, 60x80 feet, in Dill street, near Washington avenue, Allegheny, for $3,000, the buyer being the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company, which takes the lot to aid it in abolishing the grade crossings at this point.

A building permit was issued yesterday by the bureau of building inspection to St. Mathew's Roman Catholic church for a one-story brick church building at South Nineteenth and Mary streets, Twenty-sixth ward, to cost $18,000.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 10 points in response to higher European cables. There was considerable liquidation and during the middle session prices slipped off to nearly the close of the previous day in the absence of support, but late buying orders from Europe caused a second improvement and the market was finally firm at a net advance of 5 to 15 points. GENERAL ADVANCES IN GREEN GOODS LINE

Fruits and Vegetables Rising in Price, While Groceries Are a Little Uncertain.

Advances were made yesterday in several lines in the local markets. As stated in The Gazette yesterday morning tomatoes proved a strong sale yesterday, with receipts a little less than ordinary. While the price did not go to $1.50 as expected it reached $1.40. Lemons also made an advance yesterday and it looks as if the market on these would go to $6 a box.

Cantaloupes made a sharp advance yesterday, as did red raspberries. Cabbage also went up and the general trend of prices seems on the ascendency. The only reason advanced is that supplies are barely equal to the demand, which has grown enormously the past week. Business along the street yesterday was better than it has been for weeks, and the week's trade balance sheet will show a big improvement.

Wholesale grocers had no changes to offer in quotations. Flour was firm but shading continues. The heavy cut in sugar seems to have weakened that article. Coming just when dealers were looking for it to go the other way, the retailers are afraid to buy for fear of further reductions. Wholesalers are not positive there will be none and business has accordingly dropped off to one of necessity.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 14 cars hay, 9½ cars oats, 1½ cars corn, 1 car feed, 3 cars straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car wheat; Baltimore & Ohio, 7 cars hay, 2 cars feed, 2 cars oats.

An active market continues and with the advance in the west a reaction is not looked for here. Better inquiry is noted for straw. Millfeed is a little draggy, and small concessions are necessary to effect sales. Hay is still low, but as receipts are falling off, better prices are looked for before long. Buyers realize that the present condition will not last long as prices are away below actual value.

Yellow Creek District Is the Leader in Lower Southwest Field

Developments in the lower southwest fields are not attended with anything better than small producers. There is about the usual amount of work under way in all districts, but the territory has been long since defined.

The Yellow Creek district, in Calhoun county, is still at the head with completed work and new work starting. In this district the [illegible] Oil Company has completed and shot its No. 8 on the David Matthews farm and has a 40-barrel producer in the Berea grit. Near Sedalia, Doddridge county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the W. H. H. Whesten farm and has a gasser in the Gordon formation.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 1 on the S. D. Williams farm 10 feet into the Gordon and has a light show of oil. In the same district the same company has drilled its test on the G. W. Haskins farm 20 feet into the stray and has a light gas pressure. In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 1 on the J. L. Price farm 20 feet into the stray and has developed no oil or gas. In the same district No. 2 on the Elias Norris farm was shot in the Gordon, but failed to respond.

In the Littleton district, same county, the South Penn Company gave its No. 1 on the Mary Thompson farm a shot in the Gordon and it responded by producing 120 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. In the Garner district, Marshall county, the South Penn shot its No. 1 on the Joseph Nolte farm and it made a good flow. The same company's No. 1 on the E. J. Van Boyce is holding up at 100 barrels and No. 2 on the John Chapman farm at 65 barrels a day. At Smithfield, Wetzel county, the same company has completed its second test on the Mary J. Norris farm and has a five-barrel pumper in the Gordon. In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, all of the wells in the list of gaugers reported have fallen below the 100-barrel-a-day mark, except three. The South Penn Oil Company's Nos. 3 and 4 on the Rose L. Norman farm are producing 150 and 120 barrels, respectively, and the Carter Oil Company's No. 2 on the L. C. Fluharty farm is producing 100 barrels.

Operators on the Ohio side are now expecting to open a new Berea grit pool. It is located four miles southeast of Piedmont, in Guernsey county, and the hope for a new pool has been inspired by the Oak Grove Oil Company's test on the O. B. Hibbs farm. The well was drilled in a short time since and has been producing at the average rate of 21 barrels a day. Wildcatters have taken a whirl at Guernsey county in the past, but never found anything better than one or two-barrel pumpers. The Hibbs farm producer will be the incentive for starting some new work.

Near Amsterdam, Jefferson county, the Hickory Nut Oil and Gas Company has drilled its No. 4 on the George Miller heirs' farm into the Berea grit and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper. In the New Matamoras district, Monroe county, William Hyde & Co. have completed their test on the Shelby Cochran farm and have a five-barrel pumper in the Keener. In the same district J. J. Kinney has completed a test on the George Hopper farm and has a three-barrel pumper in the Big Injun. In the Marietta district, Washington county, the Clark Oil Company has completed a second test on the Martin McBride farm and has a light pumper in the second Cow Run sand. In the Lewisville district, Monroe county, J. Johnson & Co. have completed a second test on the Hannah Grimes farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Keener formation.

SHORTS ARE ACTIVE IN THE WHEAT MARKET

Prospects of Greatly Diminished Yield of Grain Causes Heavy Buying—Corn Down.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 23.—Prospects of a greatly diminished yield of wheat caused active buying today by shorts. At the close wheat for July delivery was up 1⅛c. Corn is down ⅜c. Oats are up ¼@⅜c, and provisions show 7½c to 15c gain.

The wheat market was strong the entire speculation. Influenced by rains in Kansas where harvesting is in progress, opening quotations showed considerable gain with the July option up ⅛@⅜c to ⅝@1c at 90⅝@91c. Shorts and commission houses were active buyers. With only scant offerings in sight, prices quickly made further advances. Soon after the opening bulls received fresh encouragement from a report by a Minneapolis crop expert. According to the report the total yield of fall sown wheat will be from 340,000,000 to 370,000,000 bushels instead of 430,000,000 as indicated by official statistics June 1. Additional bullish sentiment was aroused by a report from a St. Louis trade journal claiming that through the southern sections of the wheat belt the crop, both in quality and yield, would be below an average one. While a number of bearish advices were received sentiment in the pit was apparently little affected by them, the market gaining constantly in strength. For July, the highest point of the day was reached at 91⅝c. During the last half hour several prominent holders were liberal sellers. In consequence the market failed to hold at the highest level. The close, however, was strong with July at 91⅛@91¼c. September closed with a gain of 1⅛c at 85⅛c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 73,300 bu. Exports for the week as shown by Bradstreets were equal to 975,800 bushels. Primary receipts were 232,400 bushels, compared with 382,700 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 168 cars, against 205 cars last week and 241 cars a year ago.

Early in the session the corn market was firm mainly in sympathy with the strength of wheat. Later a distinctly weak tone developed on heavy selling by a leading long. Liberal receipts here and at all primary points furnished the principal basis for the selling pressure. Another bearish factor was the weakness of cash corn. The market closed weak with prices almost at the lowest point. July opened ⅛@¼c higher at 54¼@54⅜c, sold off to 53⅝c and closed at 53⅞c. September closed at a loss of ⅜c at 52¾@52⅞c. Local receipts were 531 cars, with 166 cars of contract grade.

Shorts were active bidders for oats, and with only small offerings, the market had a strong undertone. The advance in wheat had considerable influence. July opened a shade to ¼@⅜c higher, at 32@32¼c, sold up to 32½c and closed at 32¼c. Local receipts were 110 cars.

Provisions were strong as a result of higher prices for live hogs, following decreased receipts. At the close September pork was up 15c at $12 95. Lard was up 7½c at $7 50. Ribs were 12c higher at $7 87½@7 90.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 3 cars; corn, 653 cars; oats, 97 cars; hogs, 12,000 head.

The leading futures, as reported by John D. Armstrong & Co., Farmers Bank building, Pittsburgh, members of Chicago board of trade, ranged as follows:

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

G. A. Rock of Washington, D. C., vice president of the Cardenena Mining Company of New York, has returned from a visit to Sonora, Mexico, where he went to investigate the Cardenena mine. He makes a satisfactory report of the property, and says that Sonora is coming more and more into prominence as a mining region, and several new railroads are being built or projected across the state.

A "strike" is reported on the Hall lease of the Sandstorm Extension Company at Goldfield, Nev.

The consideration paid for the property of the Tonopah Crown Company at Tonopah, Nev., was $150,000.

The La Cobriza mine in the Altar district, near Puerto, Sonora, Mexico, owned by W. T. Stewart and A. H. Parker of El Paso, has been sold to F. C. Emery of the same city for $12,000.

For the first 14 days of June the Old Dominion Company has produced an average of slightly over 100,000 pounds of copper per day, which would indicate a production this month of 3,000,000 pounds.

The Saddle Mountain Copper and Smelting Company, in Pinal county, Ariz., has a force of about 100 men employed at its mines.

The Good Hope-Bonanza mines, owned by the Empire Gold Mining and Milling Company, near Hillsboro, N. M., are shipping high-grade ores, containing gold, silver and copper. The stamp mill on the property is running 24 hours daily.

After developing an encouraging show of copper by its exploration in Keweenaw county, Mich., the Bohemian company has closed down for lack of funds. A shaft was sunk 82 feet and 282 feet of cross-cutting and drifting was done.

William Sauntry of Stillwater, Minn., president of the Columbus company of the Black Hills, stated recently to N. E. Franklin that he was preparing to build a mill on the Columbus.

It may now be said for the first time that the Transvaal gold mining industry has recovered the ground lost from the war which its owners brought about. The May output of the Rand district was 416,000 fine ounces, compared with an ante-bellum monthly high record of 459,710 gross, or 378,200 fine, ounces, which was reached just before the outbreak of hostilities.

The Metal Markets.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The London tin market was somewhat easier, closing at £139 7s 6d for spot and £137 17s 6d for futures. Locally the market was steady, however, and closed a shade higher at $30 40@30 65. Copper also was lower in London, closing at £65 17s 6d for both spot and futures. Locally the market remains unchanged. Some dealers are still reported to be holding lake at $15 25, but both lake and electrolytic are generally quoted at $15 00 and casting at $14 75. Lead was unchanged at £13 in London and at $4 50@4 60 locally. Spelter also was unchanged in both markets, closing at $5 30 in New York and at £24 in London. Iron closed at 49s 4d in Glasgow and at 47s 6d in Middlesboro. The local iron market is easier. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $16 25@16 75; No. 2 foundry northern, $15 75@16 25; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft, $15 75@16 25; No. 2 foundry southern, $15 25@15 75.

BOSTON, June 23.—Strong bull talk was heard on A. C. P. and a good deal of stock changed hands around 82, but later reacted to 81½, where it closed. Copper Range sold up to 71½ and continued buying of Allouez put that stock to 24⅛. We still believe on reactions good stocks should be bought, particularly coppers.

SEASONABLE WEATHER IS STIMULATING BUSINESS

Entire Commercial Situation Is Bettered by the Rapidly Ripening Crops. Exports for the Week.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 23.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Seasonable weather in most sections of the country has done much to stimulate lagging retail trade in lightweight wearing apparel and greatly improved the entire business situation by accelerating the maturity of agricultural products. A few more weeks of favorable climatic conditions will put large quantities of grain beyond danger, while late planted corn and cotton are rapidly recovering lost ground. These are the most important commercial influences at this season of the year, jobbers being largely dependent upon local conditions at the interior and manufacturers gauging their activity by the outlook for fall and winter distribution. It is noticeable that moderate midsummer transactions are not productive of price concessions to stimulate forward business, owing to a general sentiment of confidence in the future. In the leading manufacturing industries there is less idle machinery than is customary at this time of inventories, especially at plants making textile fabrics, despite the fact that prices of raw materials are somewhat inflated. Labor controversies are not disturbing, several more agreements having been signed, and less than the usual number of struggles are threatened for July 1. Building operations are more numerous and involve a greater amount of capital than at this time in recent preceding years, railway earnings for June thus far exceed last year's by 8.1 per cent, and foreign commerce at this port for the last week is fairly well maintained, exports gaining $838,270 in comparison with last year, while imports decreased $1,173,407.

Normal midsummer quiet in the iron and steel industry is occasioning no anxiety, conditions being much better than they were at this time last year.

Irregularity is still noted in the hide market. Foreign dry hides continue dull at the recent decline. Although less active than last week, leather is still moving freely.

New England footwear manufacturers are receiving a fair amount of supplementary fair orders from salesmen in the western territory, and there is also a good demand for spring samples.

Failures this week numbered 195 in the United States, against 227 last year, and 29 in Canada, compared with 32 a year ago.

Bradstreets tomorrow will say:

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending June 22 are 975,832 bushels, against 688,017 bushels last week, 1,271,437 bushels this week last year, 3,518,152 bushels in 1903 and 3,282,701 bushels in 1902. Corn exports for the week are 1,110,356 bushels, against 565,099 bushels last week, 387,082 bushels a year ago, 1,283,724 bushels in 1903 and 120,102 bushels in 1902. From July 1 to date the exports of corn are 77,702,667 bushels, against 51,601,904 bushels in 1904, 65,585,517 bushels in 1903, and 24,828,374 bushels in 1902.

Today's departures of packets from the port of Cincinnati were: Greenwood, Pomeroy; Courier, Maysville; City of Cincinnati, Louisville. The G. W. Thomas arrived and will return immediately. The Tom Dodsworth arrived light after a tow of empties. The towboats due are the Sam Brown, Josh Cook, Pacific, Ed. Roberts, Valiant, Exporter, Boaz, Joe Walton, Tom Rees No. 2, Henry Lowry, Harry Brown, Helen White, Frank Gilmore and W. H. Flint. In all these boats will handle nearly 8,000,000 bushels of coal. MUCH COAL GOING OUT.

All the coal companies in Pittsburgh which handle river coal were busy getting out their product yesterday for the southern markets. The river had reached a depth of almost 12 feet, an admirable stage for shipping. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company got out eight big tows yesterday. They were the Tom Rees, 12 boats, 4 barges; Boaz, 15 boats, 2 model barges, 3 barges; Harry Brown, 15 boats, 2 models, 3 barges; Joseph Walton, 12 boats, 6 barges; Cruiser, 12 boats; Exporter, 15 boats, 1 model, 2 barges; Mariner, 12 boats, 4 barges; Pacific, 12 boats, 6 barges. Several other boats will go out today and tomorrow and by Monday morning the harbor will be practically clear. Other boats are bringing more coal down from the upper pools, and it is believed nearly all the coal now afloat at the upper harbors will be got below.

The United States Coal Company got out the W. H. Flint, 11 barges and 3 boats, and the Helen White and Andrew Axton, with 2 boats and 15 barges each. The Rudd company started the Frank Gilmore and Diamond with 2 boats and 11 barges. The Oakland of the Jutte company got out with 20 coal boats, the Phil and Charley Jutte helping her down. The Gleaner may go today.

The Greenland arrived yesterday from Charleston and the Lorena from Zanesville. These, with the I. C. Woodward from Morgantown, were the only packet boats. They all had big trips of passengers and an unusually heavy freight list.

PASSENGER RATE WAR THREATENED

Pennsylvania Special Makes the Run from New York to Chicago in Less Than 16 Hours.

WALTERS' RETURN INTERESTING

By the decision of a board of arbitration in the case the Michigan Central is no longer a standard line between Chicago and New York so far as passenger fares are concerned. Prior to that decision, which was made public on Wednesday in Chicago, the Michigan Central, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern-New York Central & Hudson River and the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago-Pennsylvania routes were considered the standard lines, while the Baltimore & Ohio, the Panhandle, the Nickel Plate, the Wabash and the Grand Trunk were differential lines, having been granted this years ago. Now the Michigan Central is placed on the same basis, and it is feared by some of the officials that a rate war larger than the east has known for many years is imminent. The Grand Trunk, it is said, because of the Michigan Central having been given a differential, will cut the New York-Chicago rate.

The commission was composed of E. O. McCormick, assistant traffic director of the Harriman lines; James Charlton, chairman of the Transcontinental Passenger association, and George T. Nicholson, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe. Messrs. McCormick and Charlton returned to Commissioner F. C. McDonald of the Central Passenger association a majority report for the allowance of a differential to the Michigan Central, while Mr. Nicholson presented a minority report on the claim that the road had not furnished sufficient evidence of the business handled. This was refused by some of the roads. The Michigan Central will be allowed under the new schedule to charge $18 from New York to Chicago instead of the standard fare of $20. Some of the Pittsburgh passenger officials are directly concerned in the matter, and all passenger men will watch the outcome with much interest.

There is also a matter of differentials to be settled between Cincinnati and New York and another between Cincinnati and Buffalo. Both of these will probably come before the Central Passenger association at its next meeting.

Makes Run Inside 16 Hours.

The Pennsylvania Special made the run from New York to Chicago in 15 hours and 51 minutes, actual running time, last Monday night. This is the fastest long-distance run on record. The average running time was 57.1 miles an hour for the entire distance, while from Harrisburg to Chicago the run of 717 miles was made at an average speed of 59.22 miles an hour. A hot box developed when the train reached Harrisburg and necessitated a loss of 2 hours and 40 minutes for putting in new machinery. Two hours of the lost time was made up between Harrisburg and Chicago.

There is no indication from any source that the Pennsylvania system officials are considering reducing the running time of this train to 20 hours. In the vicinity of Manor, where an attempt was said to have been made to wreck the train last Monday night, two extra track walkers are employed, each to make a trip over the track just before the special appears. Every precaution is being taken by the Pennsylvania system officials and employes for the safety of this train as well as all others.

Appears Favorable for Walters.

From the fact that Thomas J. Walters, commercial freight agent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in this district, has been called home two weeks before the date intended for his return from his wedding trip in the west, his friends think that matters look pretty favorable for his being made either division freight agent or coal and coke agent in Pittsburgh as successor to H. M. Matthews, who was promoted to general coal and coke agent of the Baltimore & Ohio system. Mr. Walters is expected to arrive home Sunday morning to confer Monday with the higher officials upon the matter. The probable successor to the commercial freight agency is R. L. Galleher, the soliciting freight agent, who is filling Mr. Walter's position during the latter's absence. It has been recommended to the higher traffic officials that the offices of division freight agent and coal and coke agent at Pittsburgh be divided, as was the case before Mr. Matthews assumed the duties of the latter position in connection with the former about a year ago.

Pullman Service to Muskoka.

James P. Anderson, division ticket agent of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad, announces that beginning next Friday, June 30, a daily through sleeping car service between Pittsburg and Muskoka Wharf, Canada, will be established. This excellent service will be appreciated by the hundreds of Pittsburghers who go to the Muskoka lake region each summer, as well as to new patrons. The northbound train will leave Pittsburgh at 1:10 o'clock p. m., daily, stopping at East Liberty at 1:20 o'clock and arriving at Muskoka Wharf at 6:45 o'clock the next morning. A Pennsylvania cafe car, serving meals a la carte, will be carried on the train from Corry Junction to Buffalo. Connection will be made by this train with early morning boats for all points on Muskoka lake. The southbound train will leave Muskoka Wharf at 2:45 o'clock p. m., arriving in Pittsburgh at 7:30 o'clock the next morning.

B. & O. Surgeons Will Meet Here.

The annual meeting of the railway surgeons of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will be held at the Monongahela House, this city, next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The committee on arrangements, of which E. S. Montgomery, M. D., is chairman, has arranged an excellent scientific as well as social program for the local and visiting surgeons. A pleasant and profitable session is anticipated and a large attendance is assured.

George L. Wall has resigned as assistant engineer of motive power of the Northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west to become mechanical engineer of the Lima Locomotive and Machine Company at Lima, O., taking effect July 1. His successor has not been named.

The Pennsylvania railroad's statement of coal and coke originating on its lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie for the week ended June 17 shows 897,487 tons. The tonnage for the year to June 17 was 20,015,652, an increase of 1,505,627 tons over the corresponding period in 1904.

L. J. Riggs, master blacksmith of the Pennsylvania railroad at Buffalo, was at Verona yesterday conferring with Master Mechanic John C. Glass regarding standards for the mechanical department of the system. He will also confer with officials at Altoona and other points on the same subject. The object is to secure standard designs for rivets, bolts, cast forms, etc.

G. T. Bell, general passenger and ticket agent of the Grand Trunk, invited the passenger officials of Pittsburgh and Cleveland to spend three days as his guest in a visit to the Muskoka lake region. The only Pittsburgh officials able to respond are James P. Anderson, division ticket agent of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania, and C. O'D. Pascault, division passenger agent of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, who left last evening. They will be entertained with a boat ride through the lakes and at the Royal Muskoka hotel, and will return to Pittsburgh Tuesday.
